Board Withholds By-Pass Approval

C. of C. Delays Action

Wants to Study Rt. 42 Plan

Action on the proposed U. S. Route 42 by-pass around Mansfield was postponed last night by the board of directors of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce.

The board felt the by-pass was "possibly desirable," but members needed more time to study the project, John G. Routzon, secretary - manager of the Chamber, said.

John B. Conard, chairman of the Chamber's highway committee, which unanimously approved the by-pass proposal last week, presented his committee's recommendation to the C. of C. directors.

Routzon said sentiment was expressed at the board meeting "both for and against the by-pass."

One of the questions to be considered with the by-pass Routzon said, was the availability of federal, state, and local funds for such a venture.

Conard explained today that his committee's approval of the by-pass was based on the open meeting held last week by the highway committee.

50 FAVORED PLAN

At that meeting the 50 persons who attended were in favor of the by-pass, Conard said.

Since that meeting, many persons have called Conard and told him they were against the proposed rerouting of U. S. Route 42, and in view of this, Conard said another open meeting of the highway committee "may possibly" be held.

Conard said he hoped a more representative group, with both sides of the by-pass question represented would attend such a future meeting if it is scheduled.

Routzon said the by-pass was still under consideration by the Chamber's board and would be up for discussion again. He also felt another open meeting might be held.

Another factor entering into the proposed re-routing, Routzon said, was the question of right-of-ways in the territory, where the road would run.

Sunny Skies Give 'Boost' To Gardeners

Mansfield's home gardeners got a boost from the weatherman today as sunny skies pushed the mercury into the 50's at noon and promised even higher temperatures by early evening.

The 70-degree mark is expected in several sections of the state.

Continued mild weather through Friday was foreseen although skies may be clouded. Showers are predicted for late Thursday.

Mansfield's noon temperature was 52 degrees, one degree higher than yesterday's high of 51 at 5:30 p. m.

Value of Ohio Farm Land Up

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Farm land values in Ohio climbed five percent in the year ended March 1. the Agriculture department reported today.

That gain surpassed the national average advance of three percent, but fell short of matching the increases of 10 to 14 percent registered in Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and Nebraska.

Ohio's farm real estate prices now have soared to a point 141 per cent above those prevailing during the 1935-39 period. Only 11 states have shown a steeper increase during and after World war II.

The average hike for the whole United States is 111 percent from 1935-39 to March 1, 1949.

400 Dems Honor Jefferson

The principles that Thomas Jefferson wrote into the Declaration of Independence "breathed life into the infant United States," Mayor Thomas A. Burke of Cleveland told a Mansfield Jefferson day dinner audience last night.

The mayor was principal speaker at a dinner at the Richland Recreation Center marking the 206th birthday anniversary of Thomas Jefferson, founder of the Democratic party. About 400 persons attended the meeting which was sponsored by the Richland County Young Democratic club.

County party leaders said it was the largest audience of Democrats to attend a dinner rally in the county in recent years.

Burke said the Declaration written by Jefferson contains the entire philosophy of the Democratic way of life.

State officials and Democratic officeholders from nearby counties attended. William A. Calhoun, president of the Young Democratic club, presided.

"Jefferson's philosophy is the heritage of all Americans," Burke continued, "and that's why today we can't compromise with a Godless Russia, which seeks to destroy religion in Central Europe."

The mayor charged that Alexander Hamilton, founder of the Republican party, "openly favored the moneyed classes."

Burke then compared Hamilton's philosophy with that prevailing during the terms of Republican Presidents McKinley and Hoover.

COMPARED WITH FDR

He said that in espousing the cause of the common man, Jefferson was like the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He said his ideas were based on the belief that "man does not live alone."

Burke asserted that throughout history the Democratic party has sought "to improve the welfare of the many rather than the privileged few."

He said Jackson moved against business monopolies, Wilson reduced tariffs and

Hint Parley Underway

PARIS — (INS) — Diplomatic circles in Paris were rife with reports today that important east-west talks — persumably on the lifting of the Soviet blockade of Berlin — are now under way in Warsaw.

It was pointed out that two top western officials have reportedly arrived in Warsaw from Berlin. They are Brig. Gen. Frank Howley, U. S. commandant of Berlin, and Gen. Noiret, commander of the French sector.

Gen. Howley ostensibly went to Warsaw at the invitation of the Polish military mission in Berlin.

But the view was expressed in French diplomatic circles that "serious talks" are under way in Warsaw.

The conservative Paris newspaper Figaro said that "contacts between Moscow and Washington have been established" through a "neutral" channel which is conducting negotiations on behalf of Russia.

But diplomatic sources reported that direct east-west talks are being held in the Polish capital.

Marriage Expert Sued for Divorce

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Dr. John F. Cuber has been doing rather well as director of Ohio State university's marriage counseling clinic.

He resigned five days ago to accept a visiting professorship at the University of California this summer, but OSU officials said confidently that he will return next year.

The doctor was sued for divorce yesterday by his wife, Esther, who charged neglect.

DOCTORS ELECT PREXY

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Dr. E.G. Kyle of Newton Falls, last night was elected president of the Ohio Academy of General Practice.

Start Repair Of Streets

Chuck Holes Blamed On Weather

Six weeks of good weather and the worst of Mansfield's streets will be repaired, Supt. of Streets E. W. Davis said today.

Three crews started today repairing the streets which Davis said are the worst in recent years.

He blamed the light winter, with little freezing temperatures for the poor condition of Mansfield's streets.

The asphalt streets will be repaired first, Davis said.

South Main street and Lexington avenue, because they are the cities main arteries, will be repaired first.

Two crews are filling in the dig-ups on the asphalt streets and repairing the broken places. and a third crew is at work uncovering the dig-ups.

Davis said five city streets will be sealed this spring. These are brick streets that are coming apart. They will be sealed with hot tar.

The streets were listed as West Park boulevard, Stewart avenue, Chestnut street, Arthur avenue and a portion of Western avenue.

The city has a contract with the Mansfield Asphalt Paving company to do this work, Davis said.

Dirt streets will be repaired before the alleys, he said.

MINEAPOLIS — (AP) — Sister Elizabeth Kenny, originator of a treatment for infantile paralysis, today announced she had relinquished administration of the foundation bearing her name.

Applicants Wait In Line

Blue Cross Member Campaign Extended

Lines of applicants waiting to enroll in the Blue Cross and Blue Shield hospital plan today brought an extension in the enrollment drive through Saturday. The campaign had been scheduled to close tonight.

Blue Cross officials estimated Mansfield's coverage at 3,000 persons so far and they said so many applications for membership have flooded the enrollment desks at O'Neil's and the Farmers bank building that the drive had to be extended.

Individuals are being given a chance under the plan to enroll now. If they do not take advantage of the time extension they will not have another opportunity until next year, official said.

The current drive is for self-employed, unemployed, retired persons, and persons employed in groups where there are 10 or fewer employes. Ordinarily the plan is open only to groups.

More than 33 million persons throughout the country are already covered by Blue Cross and are eligible for the Blue Shield plan.

No physical examination is necessary. Interested applicants need merely to go to the two plan headquarters and a Blue Cross representative will assist them in filling out membership forms, it was emphasized.

Hundred Ill After Test

DONORA, Pa., — (UP) — Parents were urged to keep their children home from school today as 100 persons were reported ill at the nearby town of Webster from the experimental reproduction of the "death smog" which took 22 lives here last October.

Shifting winds cleared the yellowish smoke clouds from Webster's streets early today, but the Society for Better Living in Webster, an anti-smoke organization formed after last fall's disastrous "smog" said:

"A danger does exist and the society strongly urges Webster residents to recognize it and take appropriate action."

By-Pass OK'd

SALEM — (AP) — City council officially approved last night creation of a by-pass highway just north of the city for heavy truck traffic.

Business men and service organizations have supported the project, which would divert traffic on Routes 62. 14 and 45 from downtown east State street.

Seek Fall Vote On 'Manager'

80 Named To Committee

Proponents of a council-manager plan of municipal government announced last night their aim is to place the issue before the voters at the next general election on Nov. 8.

A working committee of 80 persons was formed at a meeting last night, J. C. Gorman, temporary co-chairman of the group, said. The meeting was held at John Simpson Junior high school.

"A number of others have informed us that they will work for the plan," he said, "and we will probably have a committee of 200 before we are through."

Those present requested that Gorman and James Young, temporary co-chairmen, appoint a nominating committee to select candidates for permanent offices in the committee. The election will be held at a later meeting.

Earlier plans had called for the backing of a special election, but these were discarded in favor of having the issue placed before the voters at the next general election, Gorman said.

EXPLAINS SYSTEM

Walter J. Millard, of Cincinnati, nationally known municipal consultant and authority on the council-manager plan in an hour and a half talk explained the operation of a council-manager government.

"To get things done, appoint," he said.

Commenting on the mayor-council type of municipal government he said, "You have to be lucky to get a good administrator to run and then lucky again to get him elected."

Quake Hits, Thirty Dead

Nine Chilean Cities Rocked

SANTIAGO — (UP) — A series of strong earthquakes rocked at least nine cities and towns in central Chile early today killing at least 30 persons.

Both Santiago and Concepcian were hit by the shocks. The quake was recorded at no. 9 intensity, one degree more violent than the shocks which hit the Pacific northwest in the United States last week.

The 30 known dead were reported to be inmates of a jail at Traiguen. They perished when the building collapsed.

Twenty bodies were recovered early today from the ruins of the jail and the search continued for 10 more bodies in the ruins of the four-story building constructed in 1913.

The town of Angol reported 30 per cent of its buildings were leveled.

The towns of Temuco, Los Sauces and San Rosendo also were reported to have been hit hard. Other towns in the path of the quake were Valdivia and Chillan.

The earth shocks were believed to have been centered some 260 miles south of Santiago, between Chillan and Concepcion.

Fear 20 Dead After Yangtze Artillery Duel

SHANGHAI — (AP) — Her guns blazing, the doughty British destroyer Consort reached the Yangtze port of Kiangyin today after a 50-mile duel with communist shore guns along the river.

The fight began some 60 miles northeast of Nanking where Red shore guns earlier had crippled the British sloop Amethyst. Kiangyin is some 110 miles down river from Nanking.

The 2,000-ton sloop suffered heavy casualties in the sudden attack. Twenty were reported killed or wounded.

The British naval attache at Nanking was advised the destroyer had arrived at Kiangyin, some 60 miles upstream from Shanghai, after holding its own with shore artillery and small arms lining the north bank of the river.

Foreign airmen saw the running fight. The Consort was 15 miles below Rose Island, where the silent Amethyst lay aground. Rose Island is 60 miles northeast of Nanking and 160 miles upstream from Shanghai.

Civil War Explodes In China

Reds Launch Yangtze Attack

NANKING —(AP)— The dreaded Chinese civil war exploded all along the Yangtze river front today.

Communist attacks were started at several points. Gunfire could be heard and for the first time of the war seen from the capital.

Pukow, across the river was under attack. Kiangpu, on the north bank seven miles southwest of Nanking, was hit. Serious fighting was reported by government sources opposite Wuhu, 60 miles southwest of here. Ksiaokan, 35 miles north of Nankow, was the focal point of the Red 43rd Army.

A top ranking Nationalist general expressed fear the Reds may try a quick landing in this vicinity, trapping Nationalist officials in the capital.

The general feeling at the moment is that Wuhu is the government's weak point.

A high ranking ministry of national defense source said the Red attacks seemed to be directed at all Nationalist positions on the north bank of the river. There are only a few Nationalist pockets left on the north bank.

Earlier Premier Ho Ying-Chin told the Chinese parliament the government had rejected Red peace proposals in their present form.

Ho told the legislators the communist plan would not provide lasting peace. a member disclosed after the secret parliament meeting. The legislator quoted Ho as saying the terms were those laid down by a victor.

The premier stressed the Red terms were not in keeping with efforts of the government to seek peace.

Ho indicated the basis for the government rejection of the Red terms was more general than simply an objection to a river crossing.

Two more British warships, the cruiser London and the destroyer Black Swan, were reported proceeding to the aid of the Consort and the Amethyst. (London reported the cruiser London still at sea, expecting to reach Shanghai late today.)

From the air the observers were unable to spot any activity aboard the grounded Amethyst. Her flags, they said, were still flying.

Chinese naval sources, which reported 20 casualties aboard the Amethyst to British quarters in Nanking, denied any shots had been fired by Nationalist gunners along the south shore of the river.

The airmen said no firing was observed in the vicinity of the Amethyst but that smoke was rising from communist positions opposite the island on which the sloop was grounded.

SHIP'S RADIO QUITS

British sources said the Consort attempted to contact other British warships by radio earlier.

Her radio was heard to say: "In view of fire couldn't . . ."

The Consort's radio stopped there. It was possible her antenna was shot away and that shore fire prevented crewmen from repairing it.

The Amethyst carried a complement of eight officers and 140 men. She is comparable to an American light destroyer and displaces 2,000 tons.

Plunges 4,000 Feet to Death

SEATTLE — (AP) — A pilot plummeted 4,000 feet from a passenger plane to his death today in Alaska. the Seattle office of the Sourdough Air Transport company said

Dave Huyoke of Los Angeles. third pilot aboard a C-47 carrying 10 passengers, was "sucked out" when he tried to check a draft around a door, the firm announced.

The accident happened about four minutes after the plane had taken off from the Annette Island airport, about 10 miles from Ketchikan.

Urges Home Vote On Public Housing Act

WASHINGTON — (AP) —Sen. Harry P. Cain, R., Wash., today urged the Senate to give local voters the say-so on whether they want public housing projects in their communities.

Cain's amendment to require approval by a referendum of local voters for a public housing project was scheduled for an early vote as the Senate resumed debate on the long-range housing bill.

Will Change 'First City'

FRANKFURT — (INS) —Anglo-American sources revealed today that the west is planning to abandon Berlin as the main occupation capital, while retaining control of the western sectors of the city.

These sources said that under the new western policy, Frankfurt will be built into the capital of western Germany, and one of the main capitals of Europe.

The sources stressed that under no circumstances will the allied foothold in Berlin be relinquished. Instead, they said, the U. S. Air Force has received top level orders that even if the blockade of Berlin is lifted, it must still be prepared to continue the airlift.

High informants in Frankfurt, who declined to be publicly identified, said that the new policy was shaped in Washington and has been agreed to by Britain.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay in an interview with the army newspaper Stars and Stripes last week, said:

"I have never been under orders to keep my headquarters in Berlin; that has been my personal choice."

Urge Stripping Pact of Secrecy

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Forceful sentiment built up in the Senate today for stripping all secrecy from the proposed arms-for-Europe program.

Both friends and critics of the North Atlantic Security alliance called for the State department and the Senate Foreign Relations committee to lay the rearmament plans wide open to the public. They gave their views to reporters.

Body of Crusading Rabbi Lies In State

Death Takes Dr. Wise, Peace Champion

DR. S. S. WISE

NEW YORK —(AP)— The body of Dr. Stephen S. Wise, world-famed Jewish leader and militant defender of liberal causes, will lie in state today at the free synagogue which he founded 42 years ago.

The noted. 75-year-old rabbi, who spent a lifetime preaching for peace, freedom and tolerance, died late yesterday at Lenox hospital.

He had undergone an operation early this month for what the hospital called a "malignant stomach ailment."

His body will remain in state through tomorrow. Funeral services will be Friday in Carnegie Hall.

Death of the crusading rabbi, who was president of both the American Jewish congress and of the World Jewish congress, stirred sorrow around the world.

Thousands — including those with whose opinions wise had sometimes clashed—messaged their grief and affections.

A pioneer of many progressive movements, Wise was a central figure in the long battle for establishment of a Jewish homeland in Palestine.

In recent days, he had become deeply troubled by the trend of international nations. He said it appeared that this country's leadership was bent upon war rather than peace.

He strongly criticized Soviet policies, but said the alternative war would be the "tragedy of tragedies."

Members of both faiths flocked to his "free synagogue," where he held services on Sunday as well as on the Jewish sabbath.

He established the synagogue in 1907.

A key figure in numerous Jewish organizations, Wise helped the American Jewish congress 30 years ago.

Waterwork Bid Accepted In Ashland

Council Gives Job To Cleveland Firm

ASHLAND — Ashland city council Monday night accepted the bid of Freeman and Jones, Cleveland construction company, for construction of Contract 2 of the city's waterworks expansion program.

The company's bid of $252,750.88 was the lowest of two submitted for the job which includes construction of an expanded waterworks plant, filter beds and installation of new machinery.

Council also voted to create the position of construction inspector for the waterworks program, the inspector to be employed under the on-the-job training program during the construction period. Salary will start at $150 increasing to $180 at the end of the first three months, to $210 at the end of the next three months and to $240 at the end of the following three months. The inspector would be accountable to the Uhlman company engineering firm.

Council passed an ordinance authorizing advertising for bids for a new police car for the city police department.

Designer Sues Galion Concern

BUCYRUS — Damages totaling $12,083 are asked in an action filed in Crawford Common Pleas court here by Frederick A. DeCain of Galion against the Stratburg Manufacturing company of Galion., which is charged with alleged breach of contract and damaging the reputation as a clothes designer of the plaintiff.

DeCain's petition states he was employed on May 31, 1946 by the Galion firm for one year at $10,000 on a contract which either party could terminate by giving 30 days' notice. He continued working under the same arrangement without a new contract until last month when the company breached its contract by refusing to pay him or assign him further work, the plaintiff alleges.

The plaintiff asks $2,083 for loss of wages and $10,000 for damage to his reputation as a clothes designer. DeCain alleges that other clothing manufacturers have been led to believe he was discharged for good cause and are unwilling to hire him.

Fat Is Not a Nice Word When Applied to the Body

Don't say it's your thyroid while reaching for the box of chocolates. Possibly one bulgy person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for a physician. Never take any treatment for a gland condition without your doctor's advice. But for the other 99 per cent who are trying to fight the "Battle of the Bulges" common sense is the watchword. It is not necessary to overeat and it is not necessary to go hungry, either. Furthermore, it just doesn't make sense to go on a strenuous diet—take off weight and then quickly put it back on again when the diet period is over. For it is obvious that one cannot continue a starvation diet over a protracted period. Within the last year or so, several diet and vitamin "plans" have appeared on the market, which means cut down on the food intake and fortify with vitamins for hunger distress But as mentioned above, you can't keep this up very long and when you quit—back comes the fat

An exhaustive survey recently made among Ohio druggists showed one outstanding reducing aid is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It allows you to eat plenty. You eat all you want but you eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. It definitely stops you from eating more than necessary for the energy you spend. At the same time, it dehydrates and eliminates.

Over a quarter million bottles of this preparation, called Rennel Concentrate have been sold in Ohio in the past 1½ years.

You can get a four-ounce bottle of Rennel from any Ohio druggist. Mix with 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice and take just two tablespoonsful twice a day.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose that ugly fat, the makers agree to refund your money.

Spring's Season for Remodeling

Stores Prepared For Fix-UP Time

Spring is here, and just as surely as spring comes every year so does the task of spring cleaning and remodeling. Mansfield housewives, like others everywhere, have been busy cleaning out neglected closets and scrubbing everything in sight for the past few weeks.

When the cleaning is all done, many Mansfielders have discovered it's time to do a little remodeling and fixing up both of interiors and exteriors of homes.

With the arrival of spring making everything outside look fresh and new, the appearance of many homes suffers by contrast.

But fresh paint, new wallpaper, or a few new pieces of furniture can do wonders to rejuvenate tired-looking homes. Those who wish to do a more complete job of "face lifting" are considering remodeling and landscaping.

SUPPLIES PLENTIFUL

Mansfielders who wish to beautify their homes will find supplies of all kinds for home decorating plentiful again, in some cases for the first time since the war.

City stores are well stocked with new paints, wallpaper, furniture, plumbing supplies, draperies and slip cover materials, and electrical supplies.

And what's just as important to the amateur decorator, Mansfield merchants are willing to offer helpful ideas and suggestions on how to get the best results.

With the wide variety of material available this year, novices in the field of decorating and remodeling are likely to have considerable trouble deciding what is best for their individual needs. Here the dealer, who is usually something of an expert in his field, can be a real help.

Mansfielders can choose their materials to fit their budgets since most supplies are available at prices ranging from those within the reach of the budget-minded to the more expensive varieties.

In any case, it's more economical to fix up homes while minor repairs can be made than to wait until major ones are necessary.

MODERN DESIGN — Mrs. Walter Kraner, Mercer avenue, looks over some new modern oak bedroom furniture in a Mansfield store. Pointing out the advantages of the functional design is Salesman W. E. Saylor. Most modern furniture is sold "open stock," that is, the customer can pick out the individual pieces he wants rather than having to buy a complete set.

★ ★ ★

Tradition, Novelty Vie In Furniture

Since Mansfielders' tastes in furniture vary widely, furniture on display in city stores represents almost every type from the newest modern to traditional styles.

Furniture dealers say young people usually buy modern styles and light woods, while older homemakers tend to buy more traditional pieces.

But even within the age group there is a wide difference of opinion as to style, finish, fabrics, and colors. Most furniture buyers are agreed on one thing: they want practical furniture that will wear well and suit their individual needs.

Although Mansfielders now have a large variety of furniture to choose from, more expensive furniture still is not too plentiful, one dealer said. If a person picks out a sample living room set and wants it in a different color, he may have to wait six to eight weeks for delivery.

With smaller homes and more crowded living quarters, few Mansfielders now buy furniture by the set. They usually pick out individual pieces from open stock furniture which can be used in different rooms.

Especially popular right now are "his and her" dressers, chests on chests, and sectional living room furniture.

One of the newer developments in living room furniture is davenports with two large cushions instead of the former three smaller ones. Many davenports and easy chairs are not fitted with rubber foam cushions which dealers say is the coming thing. The new rubber cushions are comfortable and will hold their shape longer than furniture made with old-type springs, some dealers claim.

Another new development is plastic covering for living room furniture. Such furniture is practical for homes with small children because fingerprints and other dirt can be wiped off with soap and water.

However, plastic furniture has not proved too popular with most Mansfielders except in the kitchen.

The Chinese influence is evident in many small pieces this year. There are a great many lamps with Chinese bases, small Chinese figurines, and even a few Chinese screens.

New Lighting Idea Permits Same Color In Floor, Ceiling

New idea in lighting the large living-room or living-dining-room is to place a dozen or more incandescent spotlights flush in ceiling, augmented by borders of fluorescent tubes clear around the room.

The spotlights are permanently focused on activity centers where high illumination is required for reading, games and so on. Lighting experts say this brings a new concept in room decoration, allowing floors and ceiling to be of the same color value.

As the spotlights have their own reflectors, the white or pastel ceiling, otherwise required for light reflection, can now give way to less reflective grays, blues or greens.

A pleasing room color plan with this new type of lighting is a French gray ceiling, gray marbleized asphalt tile floor and plain buff walls. With a blue or green ceiling, the floor might be blue or green marbleized asphalt tile. Added interest could be created by using plain white or black feature strip of this smooth-surfaced, resilient flooring.

Douglas Dismissed From Eye Hospital

He was lifted on a stretcher into the ambulance from the hospital bed where he has been lying since a fish hook pierced his eye nearly two weeks ago.

Mother Shot, Gives Birth To Daughter

DALLAS, Tex. — (UP) — A 19-year-old mother and the baby girl she bore two days after a bullet tore through her brain fought for their lives today.

Doctors at Parkland hospital said that Both Mrs. Addie Hudson and her infant daughter, born one month prematurely, remain in "critical" condition.

Mrs. Hudson was found Friday in a rented bedroom at a private residence. She had been shot through the head.

She was rushed to Parkland where doctors prepared for a caesarian section to deliver her baby. But Mrs. Hudson never lost consciousness.

Sunday labor pains began, and she gave birth to a daughter. The child was placed in an incubator. Her condition, first described as "good," turned critical late yesterday.

Charge Ohioan Stole $90,000

DELAWARE — (INS) — A Stratford, O., filling station operator was on his way to a Liberty, Mo., jail today, charged with embezzling $90,000.

Dewey Vest, 50, waived extradition yesterday and started back with Clay county, Mo., Sheriff Curtis Hay and Prosecutor Charles Kirkland, and Delaware county, O., Sherriff Earl Fravel.

The Missouri officials said Vest worked for the Corn Products company, of North Kansas City, for 33 years as a paymaster, and that he embezzled the money during that time.

Serves 15-Minute Term In Office

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(U.P.)—A hunting trip was responsible for Arizona having a woman governor for the first time in its history.

But the state auditor, Mrs. Ana Frohmiller, who held the chief executive's position for about 15 minutes, didn't know about it until several days later.

It happened when Gov. Dan E. Garvey crossed to the Nevada side of the Colorado River on a hunting and fishing trip. Under Arizona's new succession law, Mrs. Frohmiller, as state auditor, became governor while Garvey was outside the state.

Murder Trial Starts Today

RAVENNA — (INS) — Mrs. Barbara McVeigh went on trial in Portage county Common Pleas Court today on a charge of first-degree murder.

The Ravenna woman is expected to plea insanity at the time she allegedly drowned her two sons, Malcolm, 5, and David, 2 months, in a tub of scalding water.

A panel of three judges will hear the case. Sitting with Portage county Judge Blake C. Cook will be Judges Lynn B. Griffith of Trumbull county and Hugh Hewitt of Ashtabula county.

House Votes To Transfer Land to City

Mitchell Measure Approved, 103 to 0

The Ohio house of representatives has approved a bill by a vote of 103 to 0 to transfer a parcel of state-owned land on the Ashland road to the City of Mansfield.

Rep. C. L. Mitchell, of Richland county, who introduced the bill, said the bill would permit the elimination of an "eyesore." Mitchell said the city planned to sell the land to allow the construction of a business building on the site.

The property is south of the Armory and east of the Ashland road. Triangular in shape, it faces the Ashland road for a distance of 273 feet and extends back 101 feet to the north of Ritter's Run.

Two other bills sponsored by Mitchell will go before the house for a vote today. One of these, unanimously approved by the House Health committee, provides additional regulations of the condition of foodstuffs to be stored in cold storage locker plants. The bill was approved by locker operators and the state department of agriculture, Mitchell said.

The other bill states that a dog warden shall have no authority to assess damages in sheep claims. Mitchell said wardens in some counties had assumed that authority, but that it had not occurred in Richland county.

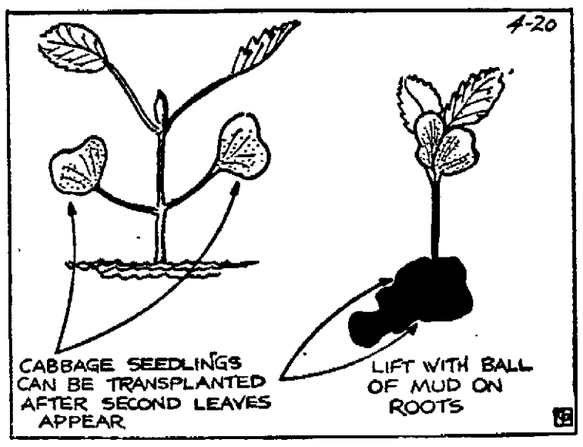
Choose Correct Cabbage Types



By DEAN HALLIDAY
(By Central Press)

CABBAGES make themselves at home in almost any soil and climate, but for best results with them attention should be given to varieties adapted to different soils and seasons.

Thanks to the plant breeders one can now obtain varieties which have been bred for resistance to the cabbage disease known as yellows. They do not produce as uniform heads as standard cabbage varieties but are useful for planting in soil that is known to be infected with yellows.

Cabbages need a little help to get them started right, and this calls for transplanting when they are seedlings.

This can be done as soon as the seedling plants make their second pair of leaves, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. At this time lift them and transplant into another seed bed or flat, spacing them four inches each way.

When transplanting cabbage seedlings into the garden, space them 18 to 24 inches apart, with the rows about two feet apart.

When cabbage plants are to be transplanted from the flat into the garden, it is advisable to water them a short time before lifting them. This will make it possible to lift them with a ball of moist soil clinging to their roots, as illustrated.

Cabbage is grown as an early crop for spring and summer use and as a late crop for winter storage.

They are gross feeders and require large amounts of nitrogen and potassium. If the soil in which cabbages are planted has first been enriched with applications of manure or a commercial fertilizer, there will be a goodly increase in the crop.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

U. N. Delegate Tells Exchange Club of Modern India

Mansfield Exchangettes wives of Exchange club members) heard a discussion of world affairs along with their husbands when Nilkanth Chavre addressed the group on India and the world today.

Chavre, India's delegate to the United Nations Economic, Scientific, and Cultural Organization, exploded many Indian myths and explained various native customs along with his talk on India's relationships with Russia to over 100 Exchangettes and Exchangites.

He talked to more than 100 Exchange club members and their wives at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

This is the first time that the wives of the Mansfield Exchange club members have attended any of their husband's meetings. The women were well pleased with the club's affairs and thoroughly agreed that "Ladies Day" should become a regular, if not monthly, institution, they said.

During a question and answer period following Chavre's address, Exchangite Alvin Preyer Chavre contended he was concerned, but as he had stated in his talk, he was concerned with correcting the forces that breed Communism at home (in India) and not with changing the politics in Russia.

Give Lesson On Botany

Mansfielders will get a chance to brush up on their botany at the new Wade and Gatton Nursery at Marion avenue and Poplar street for the next 10 days.

The nurserymen have erected painted signs to designate each of the many varieties of plants grown there. There are Taxus from Japan; Tamarix, native of Africa; Juniper from the Pacific Northwest, and the Jinko tree from China.

The nursery is inviting school children, and any others interested in seeing the display, to come to the Marion avenue site.

Thief Has Luck But It's All Bad

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—If you don't believe in bad luck, ask the man who has it, Douglas C. Yale.

Using fingernail clippers to pick a lock box in a post office, noise attracted a guard and led to his arrest. The box number was 1313.

In 1939, Yale offered a business man's card to police who arrested him for attempted auto theft. The man named on the card was the desk sergeant's brother-in-law.

Once he had picked a lock box in a post offices successfully, when a letter dropped to the floor. It was addressed to the man who stopped to pick it up for him, charged Chavre with "indifference" to the Communistic threat to India and the rest of the world.

Senators See Photos Of Slums

Douglas Backs Pointed Remarks

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D., Ill., yesterday gave the Senate a photographic look at alley slums in the shadow of the Capitol dome.

The freshman Illinois Democrat brought huge photographs of slums in several major cities to the Senate floor to illustrate a speech urging passage of a long-range housing and slum clearance bill.

Before packed galleries, Douglas showed his colleagues a photograph of Schott's Alley, "which is only 100 feet from our Senate office building and which is one of the worst slums I have seen."

He then showed a scene "a few blocks northwest from here, but with the dome of the Capitol clearly evident."

Senators watched intently as Douglas exhibited pictures of slums in other cities.

After Washington, he turned to Chicago with the comment that "confession is good for my soul." Douglas used to teach economics at the University of Chicago.

The pictures showed a "typical south side, back of the yards residential section," a south side slum dwelling where a bathroom was "shared by three families," and scenes in the near north side of Chicago.

Then Douglas went on to Baltimore, New Orleans, Detroit, Kansas City, Dallas and Los Angeles. And next, "to indicate that this is also a problem in many smaller cities," he showed scenes from Savannah, Ga.; Meridian, Miss.; Texas City, Tex., and Oklahoma City.

"I could have collected many more photographs from Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, San Francisco and countless other cities," Douglas said.

He said the housing bill's $1,500,000,000 program of slum clearance loans and grants would help meet a "major problem."

Supporters of the housing bill are confident that they can beat down attempts to weaken it.

FOUR DRUMSTICKS—This chick is no piker. When it grows up it will have four drumsticks. Two of its four legs are joined while one of the other legs is in the normal position and the fourth is further back. The four-legged chick was found by Robert R. Cramer of 694 Trimble road, in a box of chicks he purchased. It's the first time he ever ran across such a chick, and Cramer hopes it will grow up.

2 Held In Jail To Pay Fines

Frank Fitch, 20, of 7 Arnold avenue, is in county jail to serve out a $100 fine, assessed by Mayor W. R. Morris of Shelby on charges of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Ollie Hicks, 35, of Shelby, is serving out a $25 fine, assessed by Mayor Morris, when he was charged by police after he knocked out a window in the Shelby jail. He had been confined on a drunkenness charge, police said.

When defendants are unable to pay fines, they must serve them out at $3 per day.

BURGLAR GETS PENNIES

QUINCY, Mass. — (UP) — A burglar who broke into the home of the Rev. Sidney W. Powell, pastor of Boston's Tremont Temple, escaped with four souvenir pennies.

MORALE—BUILDER!

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y — (UP) — As a morale-builder for their women patients, Niagara Falls Memorial and Mt. St. Mary's hospitals have installed portable beauty shops.

Hears Road Protests

The state highway department was to hold a public hearing today at 2 p. m. in the county commissioners' office on proposed abandonment of State Routes 545 (Marion avenue road) and a section of State Route 97.

The state proposes to abandon State Route 545 from Park avenue west and Sturges avenue to its intersection with State Route 97 in Morrow county.

It proposes to abandon State Route 97 for a distance of 1.59 miles from a point 948 feet east from Route 545 in Morrow county to a point in Richland county where the proposed new highway will rejoin the present route.

Commissioners will hold hearings at the same time on vacating of the Stoller and Aten roads. The road abandonments and vacations were made necessary by the building of the Clear Fork reservoir.

City's Taxi Firms Increased to Eight

Mansfield now has eight taxi cab companies.

Newest of the group is the Zone Cab company, 20 North Walnut street, owned by Tony Stancato, 180½ North Main street.

Stancato is a former Westinghouse employe and prior to that compiled 15 years experience in the taxi business.

Schools Buy Savings Bonds

The Mansfield board of education has announced that it had invested $1,700,000 in Series D, U. S. Treasury notes. These notes pay a progressive rate of interest beginning at eight-tenths o fone per cent for a four-month period. They cannot be cashed before four months from month of issue.

The board's investment was made in $100,000 units. The funds were invested until they are needed for building purposes. The money was obtained from the sale of bonds voted to construct new schools and modernize the city library.

Russia Finds Blockade Useless

UNTIL spokesmen for Russia start showing a co-operative attitude toward solution of problems involved in the rehabilitation of Germany — particularly as related to the Soviet blockade of Berlin — little confidence can be placed in rumors of approaching agreement between Moscow and the Western powers.

As viewed by observers, the airlift, as used by the Western allies in carrying supplies into their section of Berlin, has been so effective through the winter months as to remove any doubt of its ability to carry on as long as necessary.

The Russian ground blockade has therefore come to be regarded as merely a vexing thing which interferes with the normal life of Berlin but no longer has the slightest advantage to the Russians.

According to J. C. Oestreicher, International News Service foreign director, industrial leaders in the Soviet zone are known to be pressing for a solution of this problem, as the present situation has proved disastrous to east Germany economy.

As has been the case at all times, the way is being left open for Russia to end the troublesome stalemate in Berlin by calling off its blockade and joining in a friendly meeting with other of the Big Four foreign ministers for discussion of other controversial matters.

It is pointed out that much remains to be done before German railway lines and highways could be restored to pre-war efficiency, and that even in the event of lifting the Russian blockade, limited use of the airlift would probably be required for a considerable time.

Meanwhile plans for establishing a government applicable to western Germany will continue — always with the hope, and expectation, that eventually a peaceful way will be found to make the whole of Germany a prosperous, non-militaristic nation and a valuable part of a harmonious United States of Europe.

Accidents Imperil Small Tots

CHILDREN of pre-school age are more likely victims of fatal accidents than boys and girls attending school, according to a bulletin from the Ohio State Safety Council which reveals that children are the victims of one-eighth of all Ohio's accidents, and that this ratio has held practically constant over the last few years.

Dr. Bland L. Stradley, vice president of the Council, says: "During 1948 child accident deaths increased five per cent while Ohio's total accident death increase was only one-tenth as great as the rise in child deaths."

A startling disclosure is that most of the child deaths, and most of the increase, was in home accidents, and it is the intent of the Council, during the May safety campaign, to devote an intensive effort to carry information on child accidents into homes in every part of the state.

Corn Has Fascinating History

SINCE scientists and historians first began to toy with the theory of evolution, the search for so-called "missing links" in the chain of man's development has been proverbial. There are missing links in the histories of plants, too. One of these, a type of corn believed to be 4,000 years old, has recently been discovered in New Mexico.

Corn, one of the most common and valuable food plants in the world today, is also one of the most puzzling. There are very few plants which clearly require cultivation by man for survival. Corn is one. It must have originated from some wild plant, capable of independent survival, but scientists have never been able to describe that original. The new discovery may help.

Development of better varieties of a plant depends partly on a knowledge of the history of the plant. Comparison of the ancient corn, recently found, with a modern ear of hybrid corn shows that the development is almost unbelievable. A single row of kernels from the modern ear would yield more food than a whole ear of the corn of 4,000 years ago.

Scientists are the ones who make gloomy predictions that the human race will some day face starvation because its numbers are increasing so rapidly. But they provide the answer to their own riddle when they dig up evidence of what man has already done to increase his production of food.

Gen. Billy Mitchell's Foresight

GEN. BILLY MITCHELL, who in 1925 was court-martialed and suspended from the Army for five years because he denounced military and naval heads for ignoring the possibilities of bombing, was foresighted in other directions.

His papers, just given by his family to the Library of Congress, show that he predicted that the next world war would be fought in the Pacific. More impressive, as a guide to our future, he emphasized the importance of Alaska as a keystone in our defense against possible attack by air.

Mitchell deserved a better fate. He might have derived some consolation from the fact that at his court-martial the one officer who voted in his favor was Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Had he lived, he would have been gratified by the gold medal and the promotion to the rank of major-general which Congress voted him in 1946, ten years after his death.

According to "men's wear" authorities, vests are "on the way out" — which would remove four pockets from convenient use as storage space.

The Akron Beacon Journal concludes that "the flat pocketbook will continue as the mark of distinction for married men."

Claude Callan explains: "A real politician studies the art of saying as little as he can in as many words as possible."

Slow Progress Observed

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — Behind the smoke-screen of defeatist propaganda about the Truman legislative program which has billowed out of Washington recently, all of it grossly exaggerated and some of it silly, the program nevertheless continues to move forward, surely if slowly.

Three key measures that were issues in last year's election are all through committee and ready for action—the housing bill which the Senate is taking up this week, and bills to moderate the Taft-Hartley act and extend the wage-hour act which will be considered, in succession, by the House when it returns next week from its Easter vacation.

All will be subject tof what are known in newspaper language as "battles," but when the "smoke clears away eventualy, all three will be enacted into law along with others now being prepared.

While their final form will be somewhat short of what President Truman asked, which is always the case in the compromises of the legislative process, they will represent considerable achievement.

Two of them, housing and wage-hour act extension, have been pending for several years. The other is to remove the abuses of a law of the Republican 80th Congress that contributed to that party's defeat last November.

This slow but steady forward movement was explained very clearly in two episodes of the past week which revealed that at least some persons in prominent places here have recognized the influences that were at work in the last election, and are still at work among the people.

One was the tart lecture delivered by Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio to his Republican brethren behind the closed doors of a party conference in which he told them bluntly, in his fashion, that if the Republican party does not meet the needs of the people in a social welfare program it will disappear from American politics.

But, beyond the fate of the party, he emphasized the good of the country, arguing that if a reasonable program is blocked, then an unreasonable and dangerous program might eventually be enacted. For the people intend to be served.

* * *

Taft's Wise Counsel.

SENATOR TAFT knows whereof he speaks. His wise counsel should need no demonstration after November's election.

He knows that the party's failure to put through a social welfare program in the last Congress, which President Truman dramatized so successfully, had much to do with its defeat. He, himself, sponsored three such measures affecting housing, health and education.

The second episode of the past week was when Senator Taft matched words with deeds by introducing a health bill providing grants or subsidies to the states, in which he was joined by two other Republicans, which followed another bill of similar purpose introduced recently by a southern Democrat, Senator Hill (Ala.) and several Republicans.

The measures are designed to counter the administration's health insurance bill that will be introduced soon. While they are wholly inadequate and defective in principle, they recognize the demand for more attention to health.

They embody the principle of a "pauper's oath" as a prerequisite to assistance, which is so distasteful to our citizens that many who need it refuse it on that basis, instead of the principle of contributory insurance in President Truman's program, which maintains dignity and self-respect and recognizes the right of every citizen to share in a health program on a traditional American principle.

In all this, however, we see the election finally expressing itself.

Senator Taft has given the cue. It looks as if others are beginning to take it.

Frankly Speaking

Study Russian Tactics

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — There are rumors here that Russia is getting ready to lift the Berlin blockade.

They're starting at a pretty important time, as this story will show.

This is the setting:

The Russians, Americans, British and French occupy four sectors of Berlin, just as they hold four zones of Germany.

The four wartime allies agreed on that division when Germany surrendered. But Berlin is entirely within the Russian zone.

So the other three nations had to send supplies overland through the Russian zone to their Berlin sectors.

About a year ago Russia blocked all land approaches from the west to Berlin. Since then this country has had to send supplies in by plane — the airlift.

This has been pretty awkward for the Americans, British and French. But it's been awkward for the Russians, too.

Because of their own blockade, they've shut themselves off from the industrial supplies they've needed from the American, British and French zones of Germany.

Lifting the blockade would let those supplies in. That might be one reason for lifting it. Another might be a real desire to ease the east-west tension, for Russia hasn't been winning the cold war.

Any other reasons? Several, maybe. For instance, throwing a monkey wrench into the plans of the United States, Britain and France to set up a new German government in their western zones.

In the first place, the Russians and her three former allies have never reached any kind of peace settlement on Germany.

The western powers have refused to talk with Russia about a settlement until the blockade is lifted.

* * *

Possible Motives.

MEANWHILE, they've gone ahead with plans, and hopes, for setting up the German government in their zones. This would be a western German government, separate from whatever was done in the Russian zone.

The Russians haven't liked the idea and talked of setting up a different German government in their zones.

If they lifted the blockade and got the peace talks going, this might cause a long delay in setting up the western government.

And the delay might have an irritating effect on the Germans who have been without any government of their own since the war.

But Russia might have something else in mind, such as throwing a harpoon into the Atlantic Pact and the Marshall Plan.

Congress hasn't yet this year tackled the problem of actually voting money for the Marshall Plan or money for arms under the Atlantic Pact.

The Marshall Plan's purpose is to help the western european countries get back on their feet and stand as a wall against communism.

And under the Atlantic Pact we're supposed to send arms to those democracies so they'll have confidence they can block any move by Russia.

But if, through lifting of the Berlin blockade, Congress thought the tension and danger in Europe is easing, then—

It might cut down Marshall Plan aid and not vote any money at all for our allies in the Pact.

What a cut in the Marshall Plan might do to the economic recovery of our allies and what withholding arms might do to their confidence in our friendship, is something that can't be foretold.

But any peaceful move by Russia, such as lifting the blockade, doesn't mean Russia has lost a battle or retreated a step. It might mean only that she is temporarily sidestepping.

GOP Maneuvers to Regain Lost Favor

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The Republican national committee has sent out a frantic warning that, unless the GOP acts quickly to offset the bad publicity over its alliance with the Dixiecrats, it may jeopardize the re-election of three stalwart Republicans—Taft of Ohio, Capehart of Indiana and Donnell of Missouri.

The GOP national committee also is pleading with senators to sign a cloture petition limiting debate on civil rights when it comes up again. All 42 Republican senators must sign, the committee warns, to show their good faith for their pervious compromise with the South over the filibuster. This would leave only 22 signatures for the Democrats to round up—which, the committee predicts, the Democrats would have trouble getting.

If the Republicans contributed twice as many signatures as the Democrats, the G. O. P. committee reasons, the blame for failure to act on civil rights will fall directly on the Democrats.

So far, the national committee admits, the Republicans have taken a beating in the press for their compromise on the filibuster. As an example of Negro reaction, the committee cites the editorial bitterness of the Afro-American, a leading Negro newspaper which hitherto always has supported the Republican ticket.

"We made a grievous mistake in supporting the re-election of a Republican Congress," declared the Afro-American after the Republican-Dixiecrat deal. "Twice in the past week have the actions of the Republicans in the Senate showed us how grievous was our error."

The committee points out that most newsmen believe it is impossible to muster the necessary 66 signatures to shut off a civil-rights debate, as required under the compromise agreement. That is the reason the committee urges every Republican senator—to a man—to sign the gag petition.

Not only will this save the re-election of Taft, Capehart and Donnell, argues the national committee, but it will cut into the Democratic vote in Kentucky, California, Illinois, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Maryland and New York— where there is a heavy Harlem ballot.

* * *

Democrats Woo.

IN A BID for Democratic unity, party leaders threw a private dinner the other night for freshmen congressmen and turned on the soft soap.

Sen. J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national chairman, blamed the Republicans for all the trouble over civil rights.

"The Republicans are to blame," he crackled, "because they formed a coalition with the Dixiecrats to block a change of Senate rules."

The purpose of this, he said, was to "prevent passage of the civil-rights program."

Pep talks were also given by House Majority Leader John McCormack and Speaker Sam Rayburn who declared that the Republican party is "split worse than the Democrats" and called the Democratic party the "party of understanding."

* * *

Sticks To Knitting.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN, who was suntanning in Florida while his supporters took it on the chin in Congress, will not repeat this again soon.

His new policy of sticking close to Capitol Hill was made clear recently to West Virginia's two Democratic senators — Harley Kilgore and Matt Neely—who invited the President to attend a forestry festival in West Virginia next October.

"Until this Congress gets its work out of the way," Truman replied, "I'm going to stay here and fight for my program."

He intends to do this by personal contact with senators and congressmen, he added, and this will have first priority over all other engagements.

* * *

Merry-Go-Round.

SENATOR Millard Tydings, the dapper Democrat from Maryland, was bustling around the Senate floor the other day as if conferring on matters of state. He hustled from one senator to another, whispering earnestly. The truth was, he was trying to get rid of some free tickets to the race track. . . Speaker Sam Rayburn has been proudly displaying a cashier's check for $40,000 which he raised for the Democratic party during a Jackson day speaking tour of Texas. That ain't hay. . .The editors of Saturday Evening Post consider Minnesota's boy-wonder Sen. Hubert Hjmphrey, as a presidential prospect, have assigned feature writer Rufus Jarman to write a detailed profile—to be published probably in two articles.

Beware That Catfish!

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — Between communism and Virus X, things are so tough all over that any least ray of hope in this naughty world is like a gasoline beacon set on a hill.

Most of the world's cosmic thinkers are so wrapped in pessimism it hardly seems worth while to go out in the kitchen to start the next meal.

So it is mighty encouraging to the likes of me to learn that Prof. Arnold Toynbee, a cosmic thinker and historian of prodigious capacity, believes we are a very far piece from a Third World war.

(Anyone in the audience who does not know Prof. Toynbee, please keep his hand down and conceal his painful ignorance. The professor, the Einstein of history, is author of "A Study of History," a monumental work which ought to be compulsory reading. He is to our generation what Gibbon, Carlyle and Macaulay were to earlier ages.)

Toynbee, a historian trained to take the long view, has told a small luncheon gathering that such measures as the Atlantic Pact may win the cold war without recourse to a shooting war.

The good professor believes that Russia is going to be sand in our shoes, crumbs in our bed and a burr under the saddle for a long time. But he believes this irritant may be just what we citizens of the western world need to make us improve ourselves and our world in general.

To illustrate better the position of the western peoples and of Russia in this fidgety world, Prof. Toynbee told a homely story of North Sea fisherman in his native England.

The fishing trawlers, which go out for weeks at a time, are equipped with tanks into which the fish were dumped to keep them alive until the boats get back to shore. Even so, the fish were flabby and stale.

* * *

Secret Disclosed.

ONLY one fishing captain ever seemed able to return with his tanks filled with fresh, frisky fish, lively as the moment they were pulled from the sea and dumped into the tanks.

Like a woman with a top culinary secret, the captain guarded his method well until one day he finally told a friend that the clue to his success was simple. For every thousand live herrings he put into his tanks, the captain put in one big, bodacious catfish.

Naturally, the captain said, the catfish ate one or two herrings on the way home. But he kept the herrings moving at a lively clip, with the result that the herrings reached shore in top condition, as opposed to the limp sluggards aboard other trawlers.

"Now I would put it to you that communism is the catfish of the western herring pond," Prof. Toynbee said. "And that, if we play our cards right and have the patience to play them wisely and sensibly, the service that communism may do us is to make us do very good things in our own world we might not have been so quick to do, might never have done at all by ourselves, if the communists hadn't been there to act the catfish and keep us lively and on the move."

The professor is obviously saying "fish gotta swim, birds gotta fly" and we people in the western world gotta move fast and lively to keep ahead of the Russian catfish.

But by our very efforts to move faster than the catfish, we will create a better world for ourselves and those who want a democratic life—which is, after all, the only way in which we shall save ourselves in the long run.

Toynbee, a slight man with white hair and a sly sense of humor, has looked back as far as history goes. He knows what made history tick in the past. So when he looks ahead and sees a light, I feel better about the whole thing.

Timely Editorial

Guilty, As Charged.

The nineteen high Nazi officials who have been convicted at Nuernberg, Germany, of high crimes against humanity were regarded as men of standing. The best known was Baron Ernst von Weizaeker, a man of noble blood and supreme culture, an envoy to the Vatican and a state secretary in the foreign ministry.

It is easy to imagine the hauteur of these men in their days of power when they were sending millions of Jews to their death in gas chambers and in furnaces. How scornful they would have been of a judge from Red Wing, Minn., a town they never heard of—a rube from the sticks.

Yet a judge from Red Wing, who presided at their trial, pronounced the judgment of the civilized world against the brutal baron and his associates. It was the small town in Minnesota rather than the glittering capital of Berlin that proved to embody the conscience of mankind. —Kansas City Times.

Earth Worms At Work

By CALVIN A. BYERS

AFTER the late spring rains, I explored a ravine that was washed out to a depth of 12 feet or so. The sides were raw clay, sticky and semi-liquid in places, but the broader bottom was crumbly and hard. Pell-mell, I came down the slanted bank, and landed on my hands and knees with the flavor of moist crumbly dirt in my mouth.

When I took stock of my sleek environment, I was amazed at the numbers of earth worms that were everywhere. Under my knees, I thought I felt them squirm, and sure enough, they were there, in the moist rich dirt.

Robins lit cautiously near, and gulped them greedily. Walking up along the gully, I saw them 8 to 16 feet below the level of the upper sod. Their canals led up through the bank, and I smelled the odors that are usually associated with spring plowing. Do the earthworms give the soil its distinctive spring-time odor, I wondered?

Perhaps decaying, disintegrating rock is another odorous factor. Some rocks have distinctive odors, and worms grind grit through their gizzards, neutralizing the acidity, so that the velvet soft castings (manure) thrown off at the top of the ground this time of year make a fertile addition to the top-soil.

Worms must have moisture and organic food. They will go to great depths in the subsoil and mix the minerals found there with the organic diet to rebalance the soil.

Worms like to congregate under stones, and when they carry away the earth beneath the stone and deposit it on top of the ground, the stone gradually sinks down until it is entirely covered. Thus, a stony field, if it has enough growth to feed worms, will become free from stones in twenty years or so.

Earthworms are nocturnal. They come forth by the millions in April and May, when the soil is warm and wet. On dewy mornings they mate upon the surface of the ground, stretching from two adjoining burrows, in nearly a full length embrace. Capsules — worm eggs — sometimes appear the color and shape of apple seeds. From one to twenty worms hatch from each capsule.

Full grown worms of mating age have heavy rings of red about their bodies.

Darwin, who first studied earthworms and made report of his findings, declared that they move an average of 8 tons per acre of earth every year. Later scientists have called them the good farmer's underground ally. I guess we do not know enough still about their nature and habits.

Funerals or Baseball, House Passes Two Bills, Senate None

Nye Backs Telegrams Of Regret

Cincinnati Reds Reign for Day

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS — (AP) — "They all have my sympathy," House Speaker John F. Cantwell of Youngstown said gravely.

He referred to 29 state representatives who sent him identical telegrams from Cincinnati Tuesday, opening day of the major league baseball season there. The telegrams read:

"Am attending grandmother s funeral. Please excuse me from today's session."

Two of the wires were from A. G. Lancione of Bellaire and Republican Leader C. William O'Neill of Marietta.

Lt. Gov. George D. Nye of Waverly, who presides over the Senate, sent this telegram: "This is to certify that I am attending the funeral of the grandmothers of 29 state representatives."

Cantwell speculated that Nye and most of the 29 representatives probably would have time to attend the Cincinnati-St. Louis game after the services.

Incidentally, Cincinnati won 3 to 1.

A check showed 93 of the 134 House Members present. In the Senate 20 of 33 members were on hand.

"I'm glad there were 93 here and not at Crosley field," Cantwell observed.

Miss Margaret A. Mahoney of Cleveland, Senate Democratic leader, presided at a brief Senate session in Nye's absence. Senators transacted only routine bussiness before adjourning until 1:30 today.

A resolution proposing a 30-day freeze on the state's $50,000,000 building program to permit an investigation of complaints was sent to Rules committee.

The House passed two bills and sent them to the Senate before adjourning, also until 1:30 p. m. One would prevent dog wardens or other officers from placing a value on animals killed or injured by dogs. The vote was 85-5. The other redefined to make more specific laws governing frozen food locker plants. The vote was 93-0.

Last week the Senate voted not to hold the usual Monday and Tuesday sessions so members could attend the game in Cincinnati. The House refused to agree to the resolution. That forced the Senate to retract since the state constitution forbids one house to adjourn for more than two legislative days without the other's consent.

brought about a graduated, income tax, and had anti-monopoly laws passed.

Roosevelt's administration, in passing the Wagner act, "did more to dignify the position of labor than all the labor laws up to that time," Burke said. He said other accomplishments of the late president were the passage of Social Security laws, and the Fair Labor standards act.

He said the Democratic party while in power had brought about material improvements for many persons. The United States has 72 per cent of the world's motor cars, and sufficient highways to go around the earth's equator 12 times.

"The United States has more railroad tracks than Europe, Russia and Asia, and 92 per cent of the world's bath tubs."

Here the Cleveland mayor mentioned Mansfield's reputation as a manufacturer of home appliances and said he knew the housewives in Cleveland were "grateful to you for the things you make to modernize their homes."

FERGUSON TALKS

State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson said the Republicans intend to spend a million dollars to re-elect Robert A. Taft senator next year. Ferguson said Taft was a "dead dodo and will be defeated by half a million votes.

Charles A. Anglin, Democratic candidate for mayor, asked each person in the audience to contact 15 to 20 persons and get them to vote Democratic.

"The Democratic candidates are as good as elected right now," he added.

Robert W. Levering, who ran for Congress against Congressman J. Harry McGregor, said the Atlantic pact was a "step toward peace," adding that President Truman was primarily responsible for the pact. Levering now is an assistant attorney general.

Secretary of State Charles Sweeney was introduced, as were Rep. Clifford L. Mitchell of Richland and Rep. Carl Baker of Crawford county.

Mrs. Dorothy Davis, president of the Dolly Madison club, made the address of welcome. Ralph C. Lutz, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, was introduced, so were the party's municipal candidates.

Money Stolen At Service Station

Theft of $60 from the cash register at the Pure Oil filling station, 36 South Main street, was reported to police late yesterday.

Robert B Barker, manager of the station, said he was servicing a car Sunday afternoon when someone entered the station. He said the money was taken between 2 and 4 p m Sunday.

when they are running for office," he continued.

"The mayors are good people," Millard said. "They don't beat their wives and they go to church on Sunday, but they don't do the job they were hired for."

He traced the rise of the council-manager plan from one community with a population of 13,000 to the present strength of governing 16 million people in the United States.

"In every 10 changes in municipal government in the past two years, nine and a half have been to the manager-council plan," he said.

He compared the manager-council plan with the cooperative movement which he said is growing by leaps.

Under this plan members of the cooperative elect a board of directors, which in turn hires a trained manager who acts as chairman of the board.

It is a copy of the council-manager plan where citizens elect a council which appoints a trained administrator to carry out its instructions, Millard said.

"Council determines what should be done and the manager does it," he said.

"I'll bet Mansfield is filled with things that were started by one mayor and not finished by the next one," he said.

J. C. Gorman told the group that there is much work to be done.

Petitions must be circulated, "and we plan to get a lot more signatures on these petitions than the 10 per cent of the voters that is required," he said.

"We have made no attack on any city or county administration," he said, "and we hope to keep it on that level."

"But we have plenty of ammunition if it develops into that kind of a fight," he said.

For Thursday, April 21

It may be very difficult to enlist the support of those whose capital, approval, or other tangible cooperation, when affairs seem involved, complicated or menaced by a number of destructive or hazardous situations or elements Probable loss of funds, through speculation, bad judgment, unwise investments or perhaps personal extravagance or indulgences, yet the predicament is not entirely hopeless or final There are signs of the development of a strange intervention, in which the emotions, ideals, or kindred intangibles, may be drawn on to relieve a major crisis. A sentimental, "inspired" or cultural approach may succeed where cross business interest or influence would fail. Attempt the difficult.

Those whose birthday it is, may find themselves in line for some demonstration of unexpected or unbelievable aid from those in high places. These may be unapproachable by purely materialistic, practical or commonplace appeal. Their cooperation seems imperative to mend broken fences, or situations complicated or blocked by wrong judgment, extravagance or overdoing.

A child born on this day, while not particularly strong in outward popularity or prestige, may find its inner urges, appeal, talents or glamour, vital to its success.

Examinations Slated At Simpson Thursday

Ninety-two Mansfielders are eligible to take the civil service examinations scheduled for 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at John Simpson Junior high school. T. A. Woodard, commission chairman, said today.

Sixteen members of the police department will take the promotional examination for two lieutenant posts that are open, and 13 firemen will attempt to qualify as captain.

Another examination that will have a large number of applicants is the one for appointment as caretaker at Clear Fork reservoir. Twenty-four persons will compete for that job.

Civil Service commission estimated they had interviewed more than 200 persons who wanted to take the examinations. A number were ineligible because they had not lived in Mansfield the required length of time, and many others applied after the March 31 deadline.

15 YMCA Boys See State Government In Action

Fifteen Mansfield boys were in the governor's chair for a minute or so yesterday.

They were the group of high school youths who went to Columbus on the Mansfield YMCA's annual trip to the capital city.

Sitting in the governor's chair was a part of the trip through the capitol conducted by Richland county's state representative, C. L. Mitchell.

Accompanying the boys on the trip were Robert W. Schmidt, "Y" youth director, and George Gaalaas, Hermit club member and long-time helper in YMCA boys' activities.

Other highlights of the trip included a tour and explanation of the state's financial system by State Auditor Joseph Ferguson, a trip through the state museum on the Ohio State university's campus, and a tour of the State Penitentiary.

Today, Robert Schmidt took a group of nine-to-13-year-olds on a 10-mile hike to the former YMCA Day Camp on Park avenue west. The boys packed their lunches.

Big event of tomorrow's program is the YMCA-Mansfield Recreation department's Kite carnival at Liberty park. The festival begins at 10 a. m. and includes all contest classifications not run off when the first part of the contest was held earlier in the month.

Other programs on the calendar for Thursday include the "Y's" craftshop which will be open from 9:30 a. m. to noon and again from 1:30 until 5 p. m.

Tournaments to be run off include the Pioneer pingpong tournament at 9 30 a. m., and the Triangle checker classic at 11 a. m.

Swimming will be held for the Triangle group at 2 p. m., and the Pioneers and Cadets will take their dip at 4:45 and 5:30 p. m., respectively.

Pioneers and Cadets will have a gym class at 4 and 4 45 p. m., respectively, and the Young Men's gym class will take over at 6 30 p. m.

The boxing class will begin at 6 30 p. m. and run until 8 p. m. with the Senior Men's class beginning at the same time and lasting until 9 p. m.

Ernie Pyle Left Sound Advice For the World and Its Future

IT HAPPENED four years ago on a faraway Pacific isle that few remember now. The little guy raised up his head when he shouldn't. The Jap sniper saw him and fired.

He must have been an excellent soldier—that Jap. For with a single burst of his machine pistol he put three bullets into the little guy's head.

And Ernie Pyle sank back into a roadside ditch and died—the way so many men he wrote about had died

Death came to him as kindly as it can on a battlefield. It took him all at once, with no pain, and it left him the dignity of a whole body

Recently I saw an unpublished picture of Ernie dead. It was taken by a service photographer who crawled a mile and a half on his hands and knees to reach the scene.

Ernie was lying stretched out with one hand upon the other. The lids had closed gently over the blue eyes that always in life had worn a chipmunk's eagerness. His features had relaxed, and his face wore an expression of utter serenity. A thin ribbon of blood made a dark line along one thin white cheek.

I was surprised to see he had his helmet on. In Europe we never had been able to make him wear it. And it worked out as he believed. He had felt that when his time came a helmet wouldn't help him. It didn't.

Somehow I felt better about Ernie after seeing that picture. It had been a long time since he had known happiness. And if he hadn't achieved happiness at least he had achieved rest. He had wondered what it would be like to have his spirit released "from the perpetual weight that is compounded of fear and death and dirt and noise and anguish." At last he knew.

Few people knew what an incredible effort of body and mind it took for Ernie Pyle to do the job he did in war. He weighed only 113 pounds and he suffered from anemia.

He wrote truly about himself:

"Our soldiers still can hate, or glorify, or be glad, with true emotion. For them death has a pang, and victory a sweet scent. But for me war has become a flat. black depression without highlights, a revulsion of the mind and an exhaustion of the spirit."

He wrote that eight months before his death—but kept on going, growing lonelier by the day as his fame widened.

When he died, millions of soldiers who never saw him felt a sense of personal grief, as people always do when they lose someone they feel has understood them And there were tears in the eyes of millions at home, for whom Ernie had been a clear and honest window to the war and what it meant to the men who fought it.

Perhaps on the fourth anniversary of his death, yesterday they remembered him — and some of the things he said, too.

Foreseeing victory, he wrote:

"We did not win it because destiny created us better than other peoples. I hope that in victory we are more grateful than we are proud. I hope we can rejoice in victory — but humbly. The dead men would not want us to gloat."

And he gave as "a last word" this thought·

"All of us together will have to learn how to reassemble our broken world into a pattern so firm and so fair that another great war cannot soon be possible. . .submersion in war does not necessarily qualify a man to be the master of the peace.

"All we can do is fumble and try once more—try out of the memory of our anguish—and be as tolerant with each other as we can."

State Route Abandoning Irks County

Re-routing of 545 Traffic Proposed

Richland county commissioners and County Engineer Walter E. Rusk were prepared today to oppose abandonment by the state of State Route 545 (Marion avenue road) unless the state is willing to re-route traffic onto the Lexington-Ontario road to the Gass road, to State Route 97, which joins again with Route 545 in Morrow county.

The state highway department was scheduled to hold a hearing today at 1:30 p. m. in the courthouse on a proposal to abandon Route 545 from Park avenue west and Sturges avenue in Mansfield to its intersection with State Route 97 in Morrow county. On abandonment, the road would revert to the county.

The proposal to be presented at the hearing, asserts the state could render "a great measure of service" in abandoning the Settlement - Hinesville (State Route 544) and the Ganges-Plymouth road (State Route 178).

Rusk calls for abandonment of these state routes so they would be put on the county system, with the state to take over the county's Lexington-Plymouth road. He said this road would provide a vital link betwen Monroeville and Fredericktown and serve as a northerly continuation of State Route 545.

He said another north-south state road is needed in the county and that change would take traffic to the east of Shelby.

As for relocation of State 97 in the Clear Fork area, Rusk's statement expresses approval and asks the improvement be carried out this year.

Commissioners today will hold hearings on vacating of the Aten and Stoller roads in the Clear Fork dam area. The various changes were made necessary by the building of the reservoir.

Well-Tragedy Averted

Heroic Housewife Saves Tiny Child

DES MOINES, Ia. —(INS)— Tiny Betty Johnson little realized today that the heroic efforts of a Des Moines mother and a fireman saved her from the fate of Kathy Fiscus. The three-year-old girl who was hauled from a 40-foot well as she slowly slipped beneath the water with only her head showing showed no concern over her harrowing experience

Betty had been in the well a half hour when Mrs. B. C. Jamison, who had been lowered into the opening by a clothesline, grabbed hold of her and kept her head above water.

Thirty minutes later Kenneth Hughes, a volunteer fireman, pulled the two out

The child's foster mother, Mrs Everett Johnson, asked her last night after Betty had taken a long nap·

"Was it awful?"

The little girl merely buried her face in Mrs. Johnson's shoulder.

Mrs. Jamison, who rushed from her washing duties to snatch the tot from almost certain drowning, said she was unafraid when she went down into the well, but added

"They told me afterward the water was 30 feet deep. Then I was scared. I thought it was only about five feet to the bottom of the well from where we were wedged."

Betty had gone to the well to pump some water for a drink when the brick platform atop the hole collapsed pitching the child into darkness.

She screamed as she slipped down the moss-covered pipe and cried out when her mother reached the scene

"Mother, help me. Mother, get me out of here"

Mrs Jamison said that Betty "would soon have drowned" if she hadn't been reached promptly.

The heroic housewife narrowly escaped death when the clothesline by which she had been lowered snapped.

She braced herself against the sides of the slippery well with her knees and back and held onto the child, who was chin-deep in water, until another line could be dropped to them.

OSR Farm Produces $230,000 Worth of Food In One Year

900 Acres Provide All Vegetables

Yield of Milk Worth $77,000

By WINTHROP RUGGLES

Richland county's largest farming operation, the Ohio State Reformatory farm, produced over $230,000 worth of food for the reformatory's inmates last year.

The 900 acres of tillable land on the farm is directly operated by R. M. Marshall, farm manager, under George J. Allarding, acting reformatory superintendent.

The farm's contribution to the inmates diet cuts down the institution's overhead considerably besides providing interesting and healthful work for the inmates, Allarding said.

Worked only by trusties, the farm provides all of the reformatory's vegetables, pork, dairy products, poultry and poultry products, and much of the fruit.

Outstanding in the farm's truck gardening operation is the production of 286,123 pounds of cabbage last year for use by the institution in its daily menu and for the canning factory also operated by the reformatory.

Even more outstanding was the production of 481,080 pounds of tomatoes for the institution by the truck farming project.

Many of the enterprises at the farm contribute not only to the reformatory but to other state prisons and hospitals as well.

Particularly prominent in this respect is the dairy industry on the farm. Of the $77,856.83 of milk and milk by-products produced on the farm last year, $12,364.14 of that total was sent to the state TB sanitorium at Mt. Vernon.

The dairy herd includes 274 cows of which 149 are now milking. The herd is all holsteins with about half of the registered and half grade cows.

Contrary to most dairy herds, the majority of the best producing cows at the reformatory farm are the grade cows and not the registered "Bossies."

Several of the farm's cows are in the 100,000 pounds of milk class for only five and six lactations, with a number of the grade cows averaging over 70 pounds of milk per day

From 600 to 700 swine are kept at the farm all the time, with that end of the farm producing 140,210 pounds of pork valued at $56,840.40 in 1948. The only meat bought at the reformatory is beef.

Egg production hit 244,116 last year at the farm to swell the farm's produce another $11,188.65 along with 11,156 pounds of poultry dressed for the table.

This year's program for the farm includes 100,000 tomato plants to be set out by the inmates on 50 acres of land which will bring the total truck gardening industry to 225 acres.

Besides tomatoes, the farm raises 50 acres of peas, 38 acres of sweet corn, with the remainder of the acreage made up of strawberries, horse radish and other seasoning, beans, carrots, and all other vegatables that make up a balanced diet.

Conservation of land is the keynote at the farm, with 40 acres of former lake bottom being planted for the first time this year. The planting of trees on all hillsides susceptable to erosion, is included in the farm's long-range program to keep the soil there as fertile as when it was first farmed.

HORSEPOWER — The Reformatory farm has 32 horses for power besides its seven tractors. Here, one of the trusties is hauling cinders to repair one of the many well-kept roads on the farm. The pine trees behind the team and wagon are some of the trees planted to control erosion on hillsides.

FORMER LAKE BOTTOM — Plowing the field in the foreground are two of the Reformatory's tractors manned by trusties. This land was formerly a 40-acre lake and is under the plow for the first time. The tractor in the background is also working a part of the former lake.

POTENTIAL PORK — Two of the Reformatory's Belted Hampshire sows with their combined litters of 26 pigs. There are 21 of the 26 little pigs in the picture. The farm produces all of the pork consumed in the Reformatory.

Two Mansfield Area Cows In 365-Day Production Testing

Registered Holstein - Friesian cows completing a 365 day production test recently included two Mansfield area cows.

Mansfield Sadie Inka, registered Holstein-Fiesian cos of the Mansfield Reformatory farm, produced 534 pounds of butterfat and 14,633 pounds of whole milk for an average test of 3.65 per cent butterfat for the period. "Sadie" was four years and ten months old when the production test began.

Carl A. Sprinkle, Sullivan, R. D. 1, in Ashland county, had the second cow in the testing program.

His Suzanna King Phoebe produced 499 pounds of butterfat and 13,063 pounds of milk in the Holstein - Friesian association's Herd Improvement Registry program.

Novel Angle Appears In Shoplifting

SPOKANE, Wash. — (UP) — A new twist to shoplifting was discovered here. Detectives reported they found a man "shoplifting to order."

The man would stand outside a men's clothing store and ask prospective customers what size gloves, shirts or socks they wanted.

Then he would disappear into the crowded store and come out with a cut-rate bargain.

This ingenious little business worked fine for the man until he asked the two detectives if they could use some socks. He offered them a dozen pair for $1.50 before he found out who they were.

He is now serving a 36-day jail sentence.

Report Cards Help Safety

HARTFORD, Conn., — (INS) Drivers' "report cards" and televised safety announcements are among the innovations of the past year in Connecticut's drive to weed out unsafe drivers and reduce traffic accidents.

The American Public Works Association reports that the "report cards" are based on a year-old point system closely connected with Connecticut's laws and penalties against traffic violations.

The point scale ranges from a listing of ten points if a driver is held responsible for a fatal accident to one point if a driver is involved in an accident without being convicted. The checking system calls for everything from friendly warnings to first offenders to suspension of licenses for irresponsible drivers.

Struck Twice By Same Train

SPOKANE, Wash — (UP) — J. F. Causey, 79, went for a walk along the railroad tracks near his home.

A train knocked him to the side of the tracks.

Causey tried to crawl back so he could attract attention but blacked out and collapsed on the tracks.

Later the train approached on its return trip. Causey waved and shouted at the engineer but it was too late. The train struck him again.

The injured man was recovering from a compound leg fracture, a fractured pelvis and several broken ribs.

Causey said he can't hear very well.

CONSTABLES PLENTIFUL

BURRILLVILLE, R. I. — (UP) — This town's constables are beginning to rival Kentucky's colonels. One in every 51 residents in the community of 8,185 has been appointed a special police constable by the town council.

Ample Supply of Farm Labor Seen Available for Summer

"Farm labor will be available this summer in sufficient quantity to handle all crops for the first time since 1942," C. W. Handley, manager of the Ohio State Employment office in Mansfield, said yesterday.

In reviewing the Richland county farm labor potential, Handley said many of the farm workers who were drawn from the farms by the cities' high wages in industry during the war and the period just after the war, are now returning to the soil.

Handley said the majority of the men now registered with the employment office were experienced farmers and were available both by the day and as tennant farmers.

Handley pointed out that the farm placement representative at the office was Emerson "Max Case, and farmers should contact Case for all help requirements.

Richland county farmers normally hire more than 400 additional farm help in the late summer and early fall; as the labor market now stands there will be enought experienced farm hands to handle any seasonal demand for help, Handley said.

Note More Atom Tests

CHICAGO —(UP)— The University of Chicago, armed with its new synchro-cyclotron, hopes to blast the nucleus of the atom into its constituent parts by early 1950.

Dr. Samuel K. Allison, noted nuclear physicist and head of the university's institute for nuclear studies, said the huge synchrocyclotron being built at the university will cost $2,200,000, and will be one of the three largest in the world.

The University of California's cyclotron, which has a 184-inch magnetic pole face diameter, is the largest. Columbia University has an instrument with a diameter of 170 inches, the same as Chicago's will have.

But Allison said the California instrument has not yet produced a beam in excess of the 430, 000,000 electron-volts which scale model tests indicate the Chicago machine will be able to produce.

4-H Club Elects

LUCAS — Joan Sweezie was named to head the Classy Lassie 4-H club for the season when club members balloted last week at an organization meeting in the school. Others chosen were: Ruth Jones, vice president; Janet Rummel, secretary; Gwen Cooke, treasurer; Dorothy Campbell, recreation leader, and Shirley Stake, news reporter.

Connecting rod bearings are removable. Oil screen is of the floating, not fixed, type; a rotor oil pump replaces the old gear design. A water distributing tube increases engine efficiency.

Valve seat inserts substantially prolong engine life, increase gas economy, and reduce frequency of valve-grinding jobs. Vast improvements have been made in piston design; top piston rings are now chrome-plated, insuring better compression, longer cylinder wall life.

Famed Amola steel replaces alloy steels in springs and axle shafts. Hypoid rear axles replace the spiral bevel type, and rear axle shafts are shot-peened.

There are 7 frame crossmembers (including a channel-type bumper) instead of 4. Added features include voltage-control regulators, stepped hydraulic brake cylinders, and 35- instead of 20-ampere capacity generators.

A. C. Jenkins Knots Pair Of Records

NEWARK—Taking 13 of 14 first places, the Mansfield Senior high school track and field team smothered Newark here yesterday, 90½ to 27½.

In running up their fourth straight 1949 dual meet victory, the Tygers turned in some of their best times of the season. It was the closest that the Bengals thinclads have been held in the four meets.

The torrid junior duo of A. C. Jenkins and Little Tommy Tucker again topped the Tyger point output. Jenkins ran his hurdles' victory string to ten in a row and tied two Newark field records in the process.

He travelled the 120-yard highs in 15 seconds and the 220-yard lows in 25.4. His time in the highs equalled that which won the state championship in 1948. Jenkins needs only to pare .2 second off his high hurdles mark and .3 off his low time to set new all-time Tyger records.

Tucker won the 100, 200, broad jump and anchored the winning 880-yard relay team to take point honors with 16¼. He turned in his best broad jump and 220 times and equaled his mark of 10 seconds in the century.

PAUL TAKES TWO

Paul Hammond, senior distance man, was the only other double winner for the Tygers. He took both the mile and 880 as Mansfield swept all three places in each event. The Tygers also scored sweeps in the 220 and 440.

Newark's ace Bob McVey accounted for four second places and 12 points, one more than Jenkins. He ran the 100, two hurdles and broadjumped. Jenkins just nipped McVey at the tape in the low sticks.

The summary:

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Jenkins (M); 2, McVey (N); 3, Vaia (N). Time—15 sec. (Equals field record).

100-yard dash—Won by Tucker (M); 2, McVey (N); 3, Carr (M). Time—10 sec.

Mile run—Won by Hammond (M); 2, Poorman (M); 3, Middlebrook (M). Time—4:55.6.

Shot put—Won by Osbun (M), 42 feet, 3 inches; 2, Snider (M), 41-6; 3, Roike (N), 39-11.

880-yard relay—Won by Mansfield (Carr, Wappner, Wadlington and Tucker). Time—1:35.6.

High jump—Won by W. Fowler, 5 feet, 8 inches; 2, Kane (N), 5-6; 3 (tie), Ferguson (M) and Goss (N), 5-4.

440-yard dash—Won by Davis (M); 2, Petty (M); 3, J. Fowler (M). Time—55.5 sec.

Discus throw—Won by Roike (N), 128 feet, 5 inches; 2, Hass (N), 124-6½; 3, Jenkins (M), 118-5.

880-yard run—Won by Hammond (M); 2, Hager (M); 3, Berkey (M). Time—2:11.2.

Pole vault—Won by Cline (M), 11 feet, 2 inches; 2, Meister (M), 10; 3, Steele (N), 8.

220-yard dash—Won by Tucker (M); 2, Carr (M); 3, Wappner (M). Time—22.5 sec.

Tag Team Match Added to Grapple Show On Saturday

Another of the interesting tag team bouts has been added to the championship wrestling show Saturday night in the Ashland road armory.

Martino Angelo defends his junior heavyweight crown against Stacy Hall in the headline, two of three falls match.

The tag team affair brings together four of the grunt and groan villains. Wild Bill Zimovich and Buzz Jones, the team which mopped up on George Strickland and Walter Achue last week, have been booked against Whitey Whittler and Pancho Valentino. Both tandems believe in the rough stuff to the almost exclusion of any actual wrestling.

Strickland, Ohio State student, meets Bob Blake in the 30-minute preliminary.

Tickets are on sale at the City News.

Shorter Races Look Best In 18th Relays

The shorter races loom as the classiest in the 18th Mansfield Relays which are scheduled for Friday and Saturday at Stadium field.

As usual, all of the 18 events will be loaded with star performers but the cream of the crop seems to be centered in the 100-yard dash and the 120-yard high hurdles.

In both events, Mansfield Senior High will place performers who rate with the best. Little Tommy Tucker was second in the Mansfield Relays 100 last year and has been beaten only once this year. Big A. C. Jenkins is the hurdler who has won 10 straight for the Bengals.

Tucker has hit 10 seconds twice this season. Others who have hit that time are: Bill Kibler, Bucyrus; Bill Smith, Columbus Central and Warren Walton, Donora, Pa. Walton last year won the Western Pennsylvania championship and placed third in the state meet.

Walton has also turned in a 21.9 in the 220.

Jenkins and Ed McCadden, Cleveland East Tech, are both touted better at this stage than the great Harrison Dillard. McCadden has tied Dillard's high school indoors high hurdles mark while Jenkins has toured the high sticks as fast as Dillard ever did outdoors this early in the season.

Another Donora boy, Tom Johnson, has run the highs in 15.6 this year while Gene Stevenson, Springfield; Bob McVey, Newark, and Bill Hairston, Columbus Central, have both shaded that mark. Johnson is a coming sophomore.

23 ADDITIONAL

Director Harry Mehock received entries from 23 schools this morning to swell the entry list to 44 and 614 individuals.

Latest entries are: Columbus Central, 25; Brunswick, 2; Berrien Springs, Mich., 2; Akron South, 25; Niles McKinley, 3; Akron Buchtel, 17; Akron Garfield, 19; Union township, 7; Akron North, 24; Cleveland Collinwood, 5; Ashland, 17; Springfield, 31; Johnsville, 1; Perrysville, 4; East Palestine, 49; Port Clinton, 10; Mayfield Heights, 5; Brush high school, 24; Charleston, W. Va. Boyd, 10; Euclid Shore, 29; Wooster, 5; Worthington, 14, and Bucyrus, 11.

Berrien Springs is the first Michigan school to enter since before the war.

★

The Red Cross will set up a first aid tent at the Relays Saturday, morning. Gerald Coron will be in charge.

★

Rooms for contestants are still urgently needed. Any Mansfielders wishing to donate a free room and breakfast to the youngsters have been asked to call Hank Richards at 4935-4.

Bucyrus Thinlies Wallop Columbian By 73½-44½ Count

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus high's track team won its second consecutive meet here Tuesday, defeating Tiffin Columbian, 73½ to 44½.

Bucyrus thinclads, coached by Chuck Tschanen, copped first place in 10 events while Tiffin finished on top in three. The Redmen placed six men second and the same number in third. Tiffin took six seconds and seven thirds.

Bucyrus' 880-yard relay team, composed of Kinn, Dutcher, Oppenlander and Dick Kibler, captured that event with a time of 1:42.4. Tiffin won the mile relay 3:56.9.

Bill Kibler ran the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat. He also finished first in the 440 - yard dash. His twin brother, Dick, finished first in the 220 dash and low hurdles.

Tschanen will enter 11 men in the Mansfield relays this week end. The locals' next dual meet will be at Bellevue High school next Tuesday.

Robinson's Connect

NEW YORK — (UP) — The Robinsons did okay for themselves in the Major leagues yesterday. Jackie played for Brooklyn, Ed for Washington and Aaron for Detroit. All three hit home runs.

Cincinnati Redlegs Nip Cards, 3 to 1

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Cincinnati's Reds have been picked to finish last in the National league this year but they'll always be able to say they spent at least one day in a first place tie.

They opened the season yesterday with a 3 to 1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals and they will be idle today. The final tilt of the series with the Cards will be played tomorrow and Johnny Vander Meer is slated to go to the mound against George Munger.

Yesterday, it was some fancy pitching by the veteran Ken Raffensberger and a wobbly Cardinal defense that brought Cincinnati its victory before an overflow crowd of 32,118.

Raffensberger was superb. Through the first seven innings he faced only 23 men. Enos Slaughter hit a home run in the top of the seventh but, other than that, only one Redbird got as far as second base.

By the time Slaughter hit his homer the Reds had three runs. An error by First Baseman Nippy Jones let one tally in in the first and in the sixth Tommy Glaviano uncorked a wild throw to first that let two more runners score.

Glaviano's throw hit Virgil Stallcup in the cheek and he will be lost to the Reds for several days. At Christ hospital, Dr. Reed Shank said preliminary X-rays showed no fracture of the cheek bone but Stallcup's left eye was swollen shut.

Amvets Softball

The Amvets softball team will work out tomorrow at 5:30 p. m. at the Amvets club diamond.

Local 'A' league teams planning to compete are: Jerry's 36 Bar (city champions), Lemley's Cleaners, PD's Bar, Ohio Sport Center, Safety Cabs, Outlet Furs, City News, Mansfield Beverage, Mansfield Frosted Foods, Yunckers, The Elms, and Richland Printing.

Mansfield Senior high school's tennis team was to meet Fremont at 3 p. m. today in a moved-up match which was on the schedule for Friday afternoon. The match was to be held at Roger Young park in Fremont.

Tyger Tennis Coach Fred Staub took six players to affair which was to include five singles and two doubles matches. Making the trip were Bill Reale, John Crouse, Jim Morris, Harold Schaus, Joe Vivian and Chick Young. Crouse and Morris are veterans from last year.

3 AA Games Open Season

(By International News Service)

Toledo, Indianapolis and Louisville led the American association today with one win apiece.

The league opened yesterday in a frosty midwestern atmosphere, which got a little too deep for St. Paul and Columbus in THE Ohio capital. The game was called because of extreme cold.

Toledo smashed its way to a 10-6 win over Milwaukee in the mud hens' home town, racking up seven in the eighth frame.

Indianapolis browbeat a Kansas City team 8-2, while Louisville edged Minneapolis 4 - 3 in the Kentucky city.

Indians Sign Alton Benton

CLEVELAND —(UP)— Cleveland Indians today added 36-year-old Al Benton, one-time Detroit Tiger ace, to their pitching staff "strictly as a relief pitcher."

The world champion tribe purchased the six-foot, four-inch righthander from the Sacramento Solons of the Pacific coast league in a deal which optioned rookie infielder Freddie Marsh to the Solons.

Benton, who hails from Oklahoma city, has not been the same since his leg was broken on April 24, 1945 by a line drive hit by Roberto Estellala of the Philadelphia A's. He appeared in 30 games for Detroit last year, winning two and losing two, and was unconditionally released during the winter.

Ohio State Raps Miami Nine, 11-4

OXFORD — (UP) — Ohio State looked like the stong big nine baseball outfit it is expected to be today on the basis of the 11 to 4 drubbing it handed Miami university here yesterday.

The Redskins outhit the Buckeyes 12 to 10, but Ohio State took advantage of a 10-run lead it built up in three innings.

It was the fourth win in eight starts for the Buckeyes and Miami's first defeat in seven games.

Louis Attempts To Get Pep Bout

CHICAGO — (INS) — Joe Louis and the aggressive new international boxing club turned their efforts today to lining up a willie pep - sandy saddler featherweight title rematch to go along with their Ezzard Charles - Joe Walcott heavyweight title bout in Chicago this summer.

Louis, Arthur Wirtz and James Norris, co-directors of the I.B.C., conferred in Chicago yesterday with Lou Viscusi, manager of pep, who lost the featherweight title to Saddler, then won it back again.

Sore-Armed Feller Drops Opener to Browns

Bob Lemon Slated To Take Hill Today

ST. LOUIS—(INS)—Bob Lemon was to go to the mound for the Cleveland Indians today in St. Louis, and Bob Feller was to go to a doctor for treatment of his ailing right shoulder.

Blazin' Bob developed a soreness in his right wing yesterday after pitching two innings of the Tribe's opening game with the Browns, who won the contest, 5-1, before 12,817 fans at Sportsman's park.

Feller, after a chat with Manager Lou Boudreau, decided to leave the game after Jack Graham, St. Louis first baseman, blasted a triple and scored on an infield grounder. That marker was the only run scored off Feller, but it was enough to charge him with the defeat.

BOBBY TO DOCTOR

Boudreau announced after the contest that he would send the fireballer to Dr. Robert F. Hyland, noted St. Louis surgeon who has treated many big league stars.

"We think it's a muscular soreness," Boudreau said, "because it's in the back of the shoulder, but we're not taking any chances."

At the same time the manager-shortstop announced that Steve Gromek would hurl tomorrow's contest against the Brownies and named Gene Bearden to work the Indians' home opener against Detroit Friday. Lemon's opponent today was to be Karl Drews.

After Feller was removed from the mound, Early Wynn was called on to take over the hurling duties. He lasted until the fifth when he was taken out for a pinch hitter. Up until that time he had given up four runs on five hits.

Boudreau then summoned Garcia, who limited the Browns to two hits and no runs in the two frames he worked. He also was taken out for a pinch hitter. Satchel Paige finished the game and turned in his usual easy-going performance. He didn't allow a hit in the final two cantos.

TRIBE GETS SEVEN

Meanwhile, the Indians' batsmen were trying to solve the offerings served up by Ned Garver, who limited the Tribe to seven hits in capturing his first victory of 1949.

Although the Redskins had two hits in each of three innings—the first, fifth and seventh—they were unable to produce a score with a base hit at the right time. Their only run was scored on two walks and two fly balls.

Jim Hegan seemed to be the only Indian able to solve Garver with any degree of success. He collected two singles in four times at bat.

Yankee Outfit Has Miseries, Many of Them

By LAWTON CARVER
(INS Sports Editor)

NEW YORK — The New York Yankees obviously made a serious mistake in going to a spring training camp this year. They should have showed up at the stadium direct from the locale of their winter's hibernation for the start of the baseball season.

In this way they could have played in a few games before they started busting open at the seams.

The world champions of 1947 and almost-pennant winners of 1948 are perhaps in worse shape than any club of recent years at the start of a season.

In batting practice before yesterday's opener, Charlie Keller pulled a side muscle and probably will suffer a recurrence of pain for some time. He missed playing his usual left field in the opener.

Yogi Berra, the catcher with the peculiar centerfield throw to second base, showed up with a touch of the flu, but finally got into the game with a pinch-single.

Johnny Lindell, the expected understudy to Joe Dimaggio, has an ailing ankle

Bob Porterfield, called by Casey Stengel the best looking young pitcher since Dizzy Dean, pulled an arm muscle in the losing three-game final exhibition with Brooklyn and will be out for at least a month.

Dimaggio seems to be recovering, but will be out for some time yet unless he learns to run without loss of speed on crutches.

In spite of it all, the Yankees got off to a win over the Washington Senators yesterday, when Tommy Henrich, the old pro himself, cuffed a ninth inning home run. The score was 3 to 2.

As it turned out, the others really weren't needed yesterday and they will be back any time now — today, next week, next month.

But it must be apparent that everything said to the effect that Manager Stengel couldn't win with this year's Yankees because of his past failures must be altered now.

He still can't win, but it won't have much to do with his managerial ability. If he comes even close with the start he is getting they can change his name to Houdini.

The fragments Casey is toying around with are deceptive in name only. He must be given a couple of weeks to get his squad together again. Meanwhile, he will get a rather one-sided test in a tough race.

The Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox aren't hurting —they are ready and r'aring.

Pro Ring Leads In Midst Of Comeback Campaigns

Tomorrow night's Madison theater pro boxing card will be another step in comebacks being staged by the two main event participants, Willie Russell of Columbus and Sparkie Reynolds of Indianapolis.

Both fighters had poor years in 1948 and have in recent weeks been trying to work their way back up the ladder. Official records in the 1949 edition of the Ring magazine year book show Russell to have lost only 19 fights in his career but seven of the defeats came last year. Inversely he has won 57 bouts but copped only four in 1948.

Russell has never been knocked out but has kayoed 42 opponents and won 15 decisions. He has fought two draws.

Reynolds, on the other hand, has been knocked out nine times in losing 36 bouts and winning 21. The Indianapolis welterweight started boxing in 1945 and had a good year then and in 1946. In 1947 the best he could do was two draws in 13 fights. Two more decisions going the wrong way in March, 1948, caused him to retire for the rest of the year.

His record is unavailable for this year except for a kayo by Russell in the ninth round at Ft Wayne several weeks ago. The same two fighters also met in Columbus in June, 1947, with Russell winning by a knockout in eight.

Just last week, Russell, the Ohio lightweight champion, won an impressive ten-round victory over Tough Dave Marsh in an Akron pro show Reynolds, a slam bang style of fighter, once held the Indiana welterweight title

Two six-round and a pair of four-round bouts round out the card. The show is being sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars with Rex Reese acting as matchmaker.

Braves Spike Rumors With Wins; Indians, Red Sox Lose In American

By LES CONKLIN

NEW YORK — (INS) — The Boston Braves got off the floor today to spike rumors of dissension and disprove allegation that they are "cheese champions."

These rumors looked all too credible until the national league champions touched off the first of three momentous explosions in their twin bill with the Phillies yesterday.

They made only one hit and no runs off Curt Simmons during the first eight innings of yesterday's first game.

Then in the ninth, the Tribesmen knocked Simmons out of the box and won the game, 4 to 3, with a four-run rally. The aroused Braves went on to win the nightcap, 11 to 2, scoring four runs in the fourth inning and six in the fifth. Vern Bickford went the route for the winners in this one.

Brooklyn's Dodgers got off to a rousing start by walloping the New York Giants 10 to 3 before 34,530, a record opening day crowd at Ebbets Field. Homers by Carl Furillo, Jackie Robinson and Roy Campanella, and Joe Hatten's pitching were too much for the Giants.

OLDSTERS BATTLE

Rip Sewell of the Pirates and Dutch Leonard of the Cubs, pitching veterans of 41 and 39 respectively, staged a brilliant duel at Chicago, with Sewell winning 1 to 0 in the ninth on an unearned run

It was the 10th straight opening day mound victory for Sewell. And losing a heartbreaker was no new experience for Leonard, who had tough luck with the Phillies all last season.

Harry Brecheen of the St Louis Cardinals lost to Cincinnati, 3 to 1, due to three unearned runs. Cincinnati's Ken Raffensberger, who always has had the Indian sign on the Cards, held them to five hits.

Both Cleveland and the Red Sox, the two leading pennant contenders in the American league, got off on the wrong foot

Cleveland's Bob Feller lasted only two innings as the Indians bowed to Ned Garver of the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 1. The Brownies showed a well-balanced attack in that different players were key figures in the scoring of all their runs.

Joe Dobson of the Red Sox, who had poor luck against the athletics last year, was beaten by the A's 3 to 2 when Lou Brissie held the Sox to seven hits

A ninth - inning homer by Tommy Henrich gave the New York Yankees a 3 to 2 decision over Washington, with Ed Lopat on the mound. Before becoming the hero, Henrich had loomed as the probable goat by leaving six runners stranded when hits were needed.

The Yankees suffered a new blow just before their game when Charley Keller pulled a ligament in his side.

Detroit's Hal Newhouser was at his best before 53,435 fans, a record opening - day crowd for Detroit Prince Hal held the Chicago White Sox to three hits and beat them 5 to 1 thanks to two homers by rookie Johnny Groth and one by Aaron Robinson.

Swedish Champion Marathon Victor

BOSTON — (AP) — For the fourth straight year a foreign star has won the famed Boston A. A. Marathon— smiling Karl Gosta Leadersson, the 31-year-old Swedish champion.

The smooth-operating Swede ran 142 strong rivals ragged yesterday while completing the 26 miles - 385 yards course from Hopkinton to Boston in 2 hours, 31 minutes, 50.8 seconds.

Madison Makes Plans

Preliminary plans for the Madison township team in the county Hot Stove league were made last night at a meeting at the school. Manager Harold C. Snyder plans to schedule several trips for the team outside of county play.

Buckeyes Lose Soph Footballer

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Joe Gandee, sophomore right guard of the Ohio state university football team, was out of action today for the balance of the spring training season.

Gandee, twin brother of first string end Sonny Gandee, suffered a fractured wrist and sprained ankle in scrimmage practice Monday. It was the first serious injury suffered by the team in spring practice.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Danny Gardella's petition for immediate reinstatement into organized baseball rejected by Federal Judge Edward A. Conger.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF ACHIEVEMENTS IN MANSFIELD

Some of our recent achievements were the transporting of the 90-ton transformers from cars to the top of the hill at Longview Station of the Ohio Public Service. This emergency required the movement of transformers four different times in a period of twenty-four hours and was an engineering feat - - - Another achievement was the erecting of two crane girders weighing thirty tons for the Empire Steel Co., and the fabricating and erecting of the longest convevor bridge known, running from the Enamel Plant to the Main Plant of the Westinghouse Electric Company.

Empire Steel Plant

The Mansfield Structural and Erecting Company wishes to thank all of their customers and friends who have made possible the remarkable growth of this firm, from an idea twenty-five years ago, to a plant capable of fabricating the structural steel for some of the largest buildings of Mansfield and its vicinity.

The local firm recently added a large warehouse to store the largest stock or Fenestra Steel sash and doors in the state. We also carry a large and varied stock of structural shapes, bars, plates, angles, sheets, tubing, reinforcing rods and floor mesh and expanded metal which we retail at the standard warehouse price. Many of these items were scarce during the war period and are just coming back on the market so we hope to be able to supply our customers in the near future.

Our Erection equipment is of the very best, consisting of two eighty foot boom portable power cranes, a small crane, five wench trucks, Diesel tractors and three carry-alls capable of transporting up to 100 ton loads. We also have several portable welding machines, and air-compressors, structural steel framing for buildings, bridges and steel smoke stacks, Blaw-Knox prefabricated insulated buildings, roof deck, fire doors, steel rolling doors and steel fire escapes and railings.

The Mansfield Structural and Erecting Company are now specializing in the moving of heavy equipment and the outstanding jobs we have performed in the past warrants your consultation with us for your heavy moving jobs. We are proud of our organization and the service we are capable of rendering, a service which has aided in the development of our company from the time we welded Johnny's tricycle to the time we built 100 foot riveted roof trusses.

Home Prices Unchanged, Materials Better

Prices Remain At 1948 Level, Dealers Report

By GEORGE COMINOS

The price of a new house has varied little since last summer, but the materials going into it have been greatly improved. And all types of lumber hardware and other builder's items are now readily available.

That's the opinion of contractors and lumber dealers. They say that prices have not gone any higher than the high mark reached last summer.

But for the same money you'll get a better house because better materials will have gone into it.

Chances are that they'll be a good deal of building now that the home building season is nearly with us. One builder said the demand now comes from those persons who waited for "fixed" prices and better materials.

BUYERS CAUTIOUS

Today's prospective buyers were described as "more cautious and more demanding." Builders expect to be as busy as ever because "more people are asking than ever before."

All of the materials required to put up a house are available now, lumber dealers report, but the high quality materials are "still hard to get."

There's all kinds of common lumber available and windows, doors, frames, hardware, paint, roofing can be had readily. There has been a slight reduction in the price of those materials, but the high quality materials have not seen a decrease.

The availability of materials was described by another lumber dealer as "the best since before the war." He said lumber prices had gone down slightly, but this was made up in higher prices for other equipment going into houses.

A builder said that new houses sold to a first owner were sold at a "good and fair" price for the builder. He asserted that highly inflated prices resulted from resales, adding that resales were at prices that were 10 to 20 per cent higher than the builder's original selling price.

An example, he said, was the sale by a builder to the first buyer of a house here for $9,300. The first buyer then sold it for $13,000 to a second buyer, who in turn sold it for $14,000. The third buyer is now trying to get back his $14,000 on the house.

Reason for the inflated resale price, he said, was the desire of persons to obtain "immediate possession." The same house could now be built to sell for $12,000 including the lot, the builder said.

Resale prices have not hit the skids, he said.

Pointing out that the cost of materials is going down some, he added that labor costs must come down—if the cost of a house is to show a decrease. He said he meant not only the labor costs of building, but labor costs of manufacturing and distributing housing materials.

He and other builders see a continued "boom" in home building, judging from inquiries from interested parties who "waited."

Boards Keep Check On Registrants

Vacationists Asked To Give Notice

Selective Service registrants were warned today by Director C. W. Goble to keep their local boards informed as to their whereabouts — after they become 26 as well as before.

Goble emphasized the point as officials are expecting a record-breaking number of persons visiting Europe during summer vacations.

"Departure from the country does not relieve registrants from their obligations," Goble said, "even though Selective Service is inducting no men at the present time."

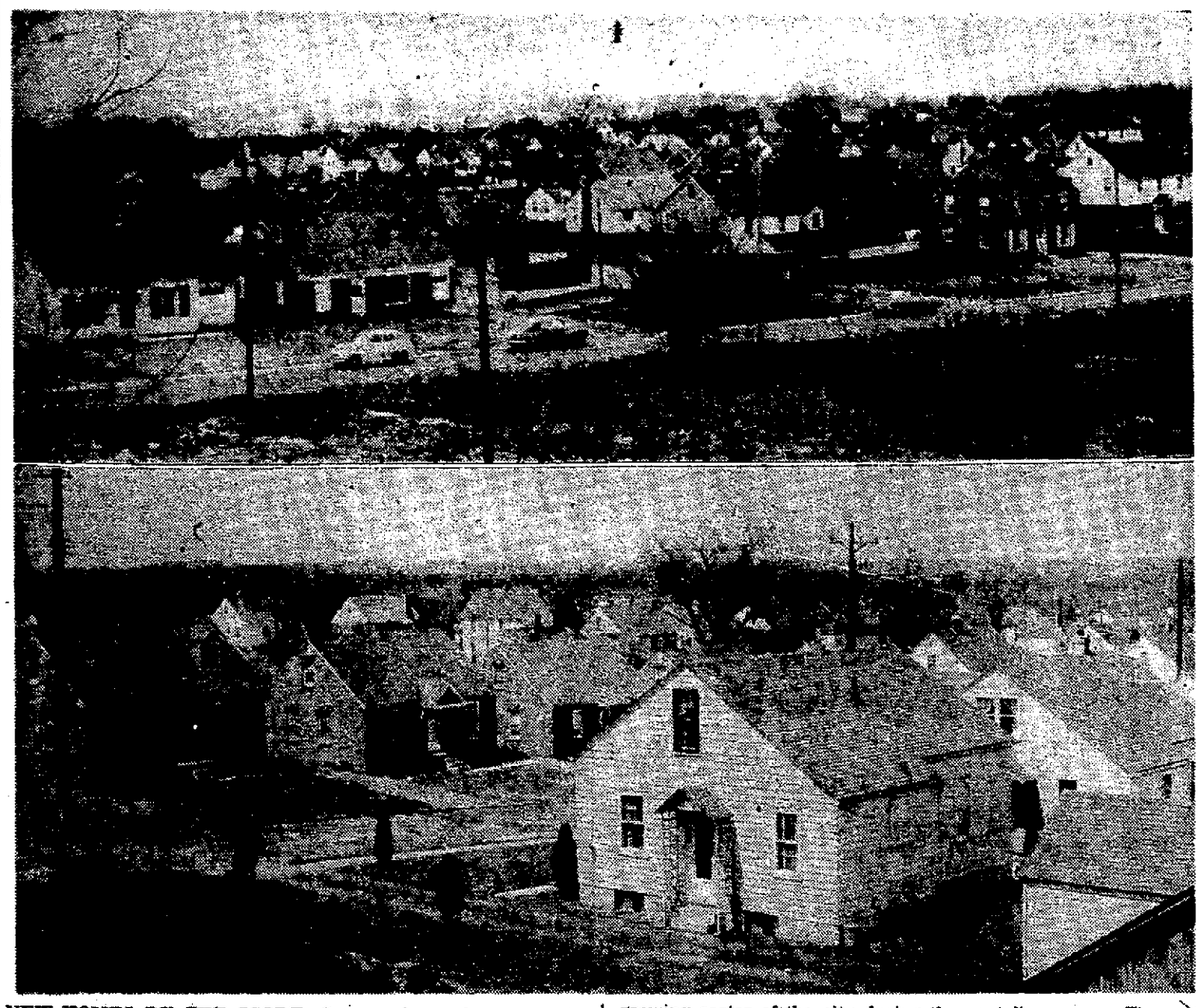
Goble pointed out registrants must report in person to their local boards before they leave the country.

Added to the directors warning was the note that all registrants must report at once any change of address or in place of employment or occupation, or any fact which may affect classification.

Persons planning extended vacation trips in this country were reminded also to notify their local board.

OBSERVES BIRTHDAY

PLYMOUTH — Carl M. Lofland, an employe of the Peoples National Bank for 41 years and now vice president and a director, observed his 59th birthday anniversary Saturday.



NEW HOMES BY THE SCORE—Scores of new homes in the Maple Lake area are visible in these two aerial photos taken looking north from the vicinity of Millsborough road. Entire streets have been laid out and lined with homes in this rapidly growing sector of the city during the past five years. The new Brinkerhoff school, at Euclid and Highland avenues, will serve elementary pupils of this area which is only one of several now experiencing signal growth as Mansfield's population nears the 50,000 mark.

Plumbing Supplies for Every Purpose Again Available

All plumbing supplies, scarce during and since the war, now are available in any quantity, Mansfield plumbing suppliers and plumbers reported.

Vari-colored bath tubs, washbowls, and water closets, coming in pink, violet, peach, and 20-odd other colors, also are in stock for householders who wish to match their fittings with the bathroom's color scheme.

Square bath tubs, once the vogue of "modern" homes, are losing out to the conventional "five-footer" where the man-of-the-house can stretch out and relax.

Plumbers say the average home-body claims, "The square ones sure look neat, but I'll take the old-fashioned kind, myself."

Streamlining and modernization of the pipes, fixtures, and porcelain fittings has lagged, with the exception of those found in the kitchen.

Milady's workshop has more chromium and plastic gadgets connected with her daily tasks at the sink than any other room sprouting faucets.

A recent innovation for the kitchen is the application of plastic for the handles of hot and cold water faucets. Especially important to the housewife is the hot water end of it.

The new type of handles will not conduct heat, so when the hot water has been run for some time no one gets burned on the knobs.

Stainless steel, ever increasing in popularity where its non-corrosive properties can be utilized, is beginning to appear more often as sink tops in place of the standard porcelain.

Copper pipe, long the favorite of most builders because of its durability, is even more desirable now.

Due to the comparatively high cost of labor, copper pipe can be installed at about the cost of galvanized iron pipe since it takes less time for a plumber to fit copper than iron pipes.

150 Pupils Compete for Music Prizes

Madison Schools Conduct Contest

More than 150 fifth, sixth and seventh grade pupils representing five Madison township schools participated in a music appreciation contest Tuesday at East Mansfield school, Superintendent Olan LaRue said.

The pupils were judged on their ability to correctly reognize music from a series of of recordings. It was an elimination contest in which the pupil was required to know the musical selection and its composer.

Winners in the fifth and sixth grade competition were Ora Yoha, Woodville; Ronald O'Leary, East Mansfield, and Marnetta Csordas, East Mansfield.

Winners of the group composed of sixth and seventh graders were: Carol Jean Williams, Woodville; Mary Ewing, East Mansfield, and Carol Mitchell, Lincoln Heights.

The winners received prizes ranging from an electric phonograph to single records.

Schools represented were Woodville, East Mansfield, Lincoln Heights, Terman, and Little Washington.

Bucyrus Band, Choir Plan Concert Friday

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus high's 87-piece band and its 60-voice choir will be heard in a combined concert at the local high school auditorium Friday night.

The band will be directed by J. Richard Simcox and the choir by Miss Edna Ulmer. The two organizations will appear in alternating groups of selections.

Kitchen Usually Gets Attention First

Woman of House Has 'Say' In Remodeling Plans

By WINTHROP RUGGLES

Mansfield's housewives are having the say-so when it comes to the remodeling job, according to contractors and home fixture dealers.

And which room does the little lady want re-done? The kitchen, of course.

The man-of-the-house may long for a power saw or drill press for his workship, but the "little woman" already has spotted the latest in electric dish-washers and automatic electric garbage disposal units.

Kitchens are being done over so all the cook has to do is stand in one place. If she wants something from the refrigerator she pivots to the left; she washes the food in the sink, right in front of her, and puts it on the stove to cook by merely turning to her right.

Next to the kitchen, the average couple has agreed to "do a little something to the living room."

Picture windows for the front of the house have taken the spotlight in this department, with big eight-foot glass spaces appearing on many houses throughout Mansfield.

Picture windows extending around a corner have been popular, but many builders will not recommend them because they weaken the corner of the house.

LINOLEUM POPULAR

Linoleum is being used more and more throughout the home, with specialties like inlaid designs made of different colors of linoleum found frequently in the recreation room. These inlays have a strip or section of one-color linoleum to represent an article such as an arrow or dart, and then other harmonizing colored pieces of linoleum are used to form the rest of the pattern.

These inlays present an attractive addition to a room's floor and suggest the activity for which the room was designed.

The tough floor covering is being used in the entrance halls of many homes where the original floor surface has been marred beyond repair and a hard-wearing surface is desired to replace the covering.

Recreation or rumpus rooms are being mostly re-done by the families themselves.

15 Persons Trapped

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Fifteen persons were trapped a half hour yesterday in an elevator between the second and third floors of the Pettibone Manufacturing company.

Roofing Test Brings Out Defects

Good Materials Last More Than 20 Years

Roof experts say one good rainstorm on a leaky roof may cause considerable damage to your home and may be the cause of a certain amount of discomfiture other than financial.

Does your roof need repairing or replacement? Roofers say a good roof should last from 15 to 20 years. Many last much longer.

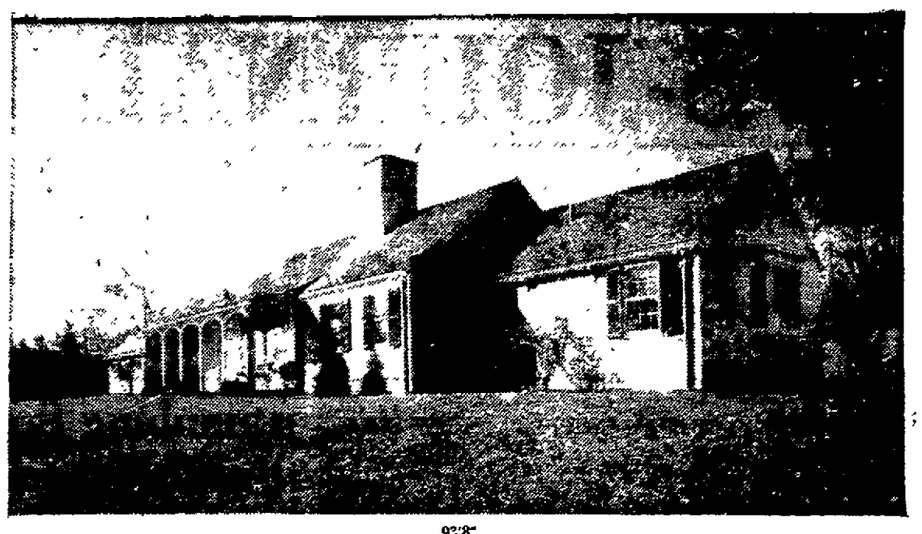
If you have asphalt base shingles you can test them by simply trying to bend one in your hand. If it is flexible and bends easily without breaking it still is a good shingle. If, however, the shingle is brittle and breaks when you try to bend it, the asphalt is worn and the shingle is no longer an effective house covering.

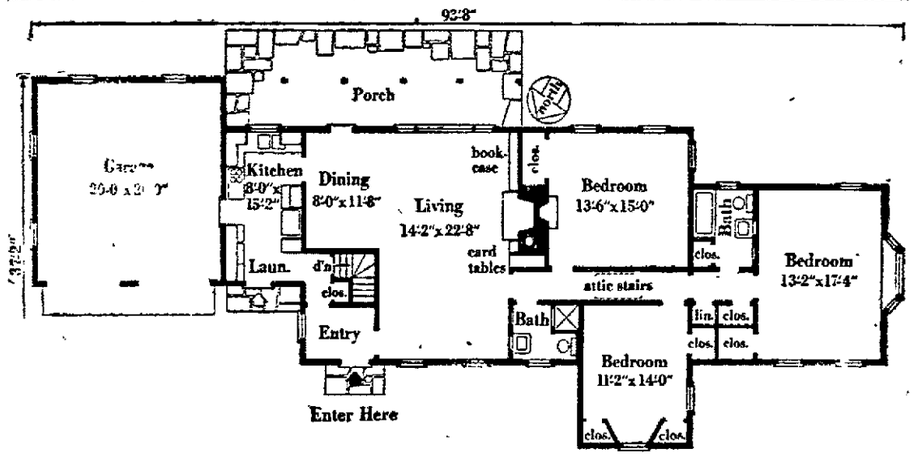
In choosing roofing one guarantee you can have of a good job is to know your contractor. Another guarantee is to know the material used. There are only a half dozen major shingle manufacturers in the country. All of them are located east of the Mississippi. The only large Ohio shingle manufacturer is in Cincinatti.

Shingle prices and roofing jobs have gone up about 20 per cent since pre-war years. There has been less of an increase in roofing prices than in most other building materials, dealers said. One reason given for this is that roofing was overpriced before the war and the 20 per cent increase still leaves the shingle manufacturer plenty of room for profit.

Spring and fall are the boom seasons for the roofing business so if you're planning such improvements on your home get your order in early so that roofers will be available when you want them.

Color makes little difference this year. The only color that is not advisable is blue, because it fades more quickly than other colors. Many shingle manufacturers are concentrating on multi-colored blended shingles. Almost all colors will fade in the weather and sun to which shingles are subjected. The multi - colored blend does not show the fading as much as solid color shingles.





ROOMS SHARE VIEW — Five rooms abreast share the view of trees and rolling hills in this New England contemporary house. The architect has given a 94-feet wide plan a centrally placed entry, only a few steps from the driveway. The master bedroom has windows in three walls—one an enchanting bay, while the 14 by 22 foot living room has a large picture window, a pine-paneled fireplace and bookcase wall and is easily accessible to the garden porch through the adjoining dining alcove.

Rainy-Day Gym Can Be In Basement

In the home with small children, a basement corner can make an ideal rainy-day gym. Fit it out with swing, trapeze bar, flying rings and ladder hung from stout bolts in ceiling joists.

Cover the concrete floor with suitable flooring-material.

A stock shuffleboard court can be made a part of the floor

Put a regulation gymnasium mat beneath the trapeze and flying rings, in case of falls. If the play space is to be used by a boy, he probably will like a punching bag mounted low on the wall.

Structural Firm to Observe 25th Anniversary Next Sunday

The Mansfield Structural and Erecting company, Park avenue east, will celebrate its 25th anniversary Sunday.

Since the company began as a small welding plant 25 years ago, it has been active in industrial and commerical building in Mansfield. In additin to its building projects, the company is now a distributor of prefabricated, insulated buildings.

Size of the plant was increased recently when a large warehouse was added to house steel supplies necessary for erecting and repairing factory and commerical buildings.

Among the Mansfield buildings on which the company has worked are the Senior high school, John Simpson and Johnny Appleseed junior high schools, Mansfield Tire and Rubber company, Empire Steel corporation: Tappan Stove company, and the Dominion Electric corporation.

One of the unusual tasks performed by the company was the moving of a 90-ton transformer from a railroad to the Longview station of the Ohio Public Service company last year. Another feature job was the fabricating and erection of the conveyor bridge from the vitreous enamel plant to the main plant of Westinghouse.

Vaughn, Garrison Go To Opening Red Game

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn and Safety-Service Director Earl Garrison were in Cincinnati Tuesday to see the Reds opening game at Crosley Field as guests of a Cincinnati manufacturing firm.

Mansfield's top city officials, along with those of other Ohio cities, have attended the opening game as guest of the firm for more than 20 years.

Agents Teach Arabian Farmers New Methods

King Ibn Saud of Arabia has hired American county extension agents to show his people how to grow more and better crops. Gradually the Arabs are replacing 4,000 year-old farming methods with modern American ways.

Their goal is to raise all the food they can eat instead of importing 80 per cent. Toward this end, these county agents hope to organize Arab-style 4-H clubs which may one day conduct a field crops program just as Ohio is doing now.

Vary the usual baking powder biscuit receipe by adding a half cup of cut raisins to the dry ingredients before the milk is added. Cut the dough in scone shape and sprinkle with granulated sugar.

Wise Selection Is Important

Insulation Makes Home Comfortable

By ROBERT SCHWEITZ

Many home owners do not think of insulating and weatherproofing their homes in these spring-like days, but experts say many homes can be made more comfortable the year around by wise insulation installation.

Not only will weatherproofing and insulation add to the comfort of your home, but you will notice a large fuel bill saving next winter.

One basic principal to remember in insulating your home is that heat always moves toward cold.

Hot rays from the sun enter the house through the roof, and outside walls as well through the windows and doors.

In a pamphlet published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture there is a complete story on insulating. It may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, 25, D. C. for 10 cents.

The pamphlet explains that in the summer, insulation serves to keep out much of the sun's heat but ventilation also is needed for comfort. The booklet then goes on to describe best methods for controlling temperature and heat in the home.

The first problem is where to insulate, or the parts of the home it would be best to seal or insulate in order to make the plan most efficient.

There must be no cracks or air leaks in walls, floors, or ceilings. Much heat can get out and cold air come in, through even the smallest openings.

ROOF FIRST

If you can insulate only a part of the house at first start with the ceiling or roof. The Department of Agriculture has found that in ordinary one-story houses and in many two-story structures 25 per cent or more of the total heat loss is through the top of the house.

Plan the insulation to keep heat in the house during the winter and out of the house during the summer. If you're going to go into expensive air conditioning, it would be wise to install this insulating material first. It will save money in the long run.

In choosing the kind of insulation, remember that any material that lows down the movement of heat is an insulator. Wood is a fair insulator, solid masonry poor. Air is one of the best so choose materials like mineral wools, glass wools, mica products cork marine plants, cattle hair, and certain plant materials.

These, for the most part, are light in weight and contain many tiny spaces filled ith air.

Caution should be taken that none of the materials catches fire easily.

Some metal surfaces make good insulators because they reflect heat; that is, they turn it back from the surface of the building.

The government says light weight insulating materials are on the market in four common forms, loose fill, blanket (or quilt), bat, and board.

The metal types come as foil or bright metal sheets. Glossy white paint also has been successfully used as a reflection type insulator.

If you are insulating the walls of an old house it is often easier to install loose-fill insulation than blanket or board. Whichever insulation you buy make sure it is resistant to fire, moisture, and insects.

An insulation job is not a good one without proper ventilation. Ventilation is needed to carry off stale air and excess moisture. It is needed in the kitchen to get rid of cooking odors. Fans installed in the proper places can be of great help if there is no natural ventilation from windows.

An attic fan will carry off summer heat quickly and help cool the whole house.

Awnings and outsic shutter over windows exposed to the sun will mean more comfort inside the house during summer months.

Some insulation is expensive, but the best will last as long as your house.

Insulating Glass Solves Heat Problem

Picture Windows Gaining In Popularity

TOLEDO — Probably not since the mansard roof era has there been any more distinguishing architectural characteristics than the prevailing trend toward larger windows.

The picture window, which became popular during the last pre-war building spurt, is continuing in popularity today. Many of the picture windows going into new homes now are considerably larger than the pre-war style.

In fact, talk now frequently is in terms of window walls almost as often as of picture windows. If a house is properly designed and engineered, glass can be used to open up an entire wall to sunlight and a pleasing outdoor view, at the same time minimizing temperature control problems.

Large window areas now are far more acceptable than in the past because of the development of an insulating type of window-pane known as Thermopane.

This factory-fabricated double glass unit eliminates the need for storm sash and provides adequate insulation for year 'round comfort, even when used in large window openings of homes in northern climate.

In the south the windows are becoming increasingly popular to provide insulation for greater efficiency of air conditioning units.

One glass distributor in Texas recently reported sales of the insulating glass were more than 1,000 per cent greater for the first 10 months of 1948 over that of the corresponding period of the preceding year.

CLEAR VIEW — This is an example of the use of picture windows in apartment buildings. These buildings are located in a suburb of Washington, D. C.

Man Apprehended On Contempt Order

Rufus Shenberger, 59, of Lucas R. D. 1, was apprehended Monday by sheriff's deputies on a contempt of court order issued in common pleas court.

The order was issued after Shenberger failed to appear Saturday for a hearing on possible contempt charges in that he was $114 in arrears in support payments in a divorce action brought by his wife, Golda, a journal entry said. No date has been set for a hearing today.

War Criminal To Face Court

TOKYO — (UP) — Keijiro Otani, wartime head of Tokyo's "though police" bureau, will go on trial this week on charges he was responsible for the deaths of 20 American fliers and for mistreating 300.

Otani was captured and brought to Tokyo six weeks ago after he eluded authorities for three years. His trial will take place before a U. S. Army military commission in Yokohama.

Otani is charged with permitting the fatal poisoning of nine Americans and with the beheading of two. He also is accused of contributing to the deaths of nine others by failing to provide them with adequate quarters, clothing, food, water, hygiene and medical care.

PLAY SET WEDNESDAY

SYCAMORE — "The Way of Life", an Easter play, will be presented at 8 p. m., Wednesday in the Plankton Methodist church by Rev. Bob Zinsmeister. The Methodist Brotherhood will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday with Michael Bibich as speaker.

Under-Stair Closet Makes Powder Room

The catch-all closet beneath the hall stairway can be made a powder-room with minimum expense and effort, even though it is no deeper than 2½ nor wider than 5 feet.

Use bright harmonizing or contrasting color on the walls with a cream or pastel ceiling. Place the toilet-bowl at the end of the closet where headroom is lowest, the lavatory at the other.

Re-hang the door to open inward so it conceals the toilet when opened. If the closet is as deep as 3 feet, build a flat-top cupboard 36" high and 9" deep along the rear wall.

Says Electricity Cuts Farm Chores

Electricity can reduce 80 per cent of the small farmer's chores, J. H. Oliver, manager of the farm development division of the General Electric corporation, Schenectady, N. Y., said today.

In a paper prepared for the Midwest Power conference in Chicago, Oliver pointed out that electrical power can be used in nearly every phase of farming, including brooding, crop handling, cleaning, feed grinding, refrigeration, and ventilation.

Set Murder Trial Date

FREMONT — (INS) — The trial of Arthur Benner jr., of Detroit, charged with the first-degree murder of a Fremont patrolman last November 3, will open Monday in Sandusky county Common Pleas Court.

Judge A. V. Baumann of Fremont Monday ruled out the second of a two-count indictment against Benner. The count charged murder in perpetration of a robbery. The court held that the robbery charge was too remote.

It has been charged that Benner, attempting to escape after robbing a service station near Cleveland, swerved a stolen car, with Patrolman George Biggs standing on the running board, against a truck, killing the policeman.

A companion, William Shacklett, was slain in an attempt to escape, but Benner made a successful getaway. He was later captured in Florida.

Speaks In Galion

GALION — Church workers should manifest as much enthusiasm after Easter as they did in preparation for the observance, Rev. Herbert S. Garnes sr., D. D., pastor of Mansfield St. Luke church, told the Men's Brotherhood at First Lutheran church here Monday night.

Says Pasture Ups Revenue

COLUMBUS — "Farmers can tap a source of hidden dollars by renovating their permanent pastures this spring," according to Harry L.. Cook, agronomist of the Farm Bureau Cooperative association.

Cook believes sod crops are one of the best profit-builders. More grass and legumes mean farmers can carry a greater number of cattle and hogs. With good pasture, smaller amounts of grain will produce bigger weight gains with less labor and expense, he says.

According to Cook, the job of renovating pastures is not difficult. He recommends tearing up the old sod with disc or spike-tooth harrow without destroying existing growth. Then sow a legume-grass mixture best adapted to the soil and cropping plan. Shallow cover the seed, depth depending on the type of soil.

Contrasting Wallpaper Brightens Dingy Rooms

By EILEEN DEWHURST

With the arrival of spring, Mansfielders have begun to think about cleaning up and brightening up their homes. One of the quickest ways to brighten up a home is by covering dingy walls with colorful new wallpaper.

Not only does the Mansfielder have a wide range of colors and designs to choose from, but he also can select a wallpaper according to the price he wishes to pay. The price of wallpaper ranges from 10 cents to as high as $4.50 a roll. A roll covers approximately 30 square feet.

Something new in the wallpaper line is a washable wallpaper which feels like oilcloth, but looks like any other paper. It is available in all patterns and colors for any room in the house.

There also are waterproof and fadeproof papers which clean easily with any standard type wallpaper cleaner.

Imported wallpapers, which were not available during the war, are back on the market. Formerly these wallpapers cost considerably more than those made in this country, but they now can be purchased for the same price as the better domestic papers.

Since many persons like to paper three walls of a room in one pattern and the fourth wall with a contrasting design, companion wallpapers can be purchased for this purpose. A flowered paper will be shown with a companion paper in a plain color or stripes which repeat the colors in the floral pattern.

An interesting wall effect can be achieved by using a dado or chair-rail section of one paper in a strip about 30 inches high around the room, and a companion paper for the rest of the wall.

Wallpaper dealers say homemakers should choose their wallpaper to harmonize with the character and type of their furnishings and home and with their basic color scheme. The size of the room also should be kept in mind and a pattern chosen to fit its dimensions.

Wallpaper has become something more than just covering for walls. It now is being used to cover screens, waste baskets, and trays, as a frame for mirrors and pictures, and to decorate lamp shades.

Gets Shoved Around

SPRINGFIELD — (AP) — A runaway freight car pushed a one-story brick office building into Center street Monday night, wrecking it. No one was injured.

100 Workers Furloughed

Approximately 100 factory and office employes at the Barnes Manufacturing company have been laid off for a two-week inventory period at the plant.

D. A. McCullough, vice president of the company, said the lay-off, "a temporary measure," was taken to balance out inventory at the plant.

The 100 employes furloughed represents about 50 per cent of the company's payroll, McCullough said.

"We hope to have all the workers back before two weeks is up," McCullough continued. "This inventory period is general now among manufacturers who don't want to build up too large a blacklog of products."

Newest Light Fixtures Are Varied

Here's Guide To Smart Purchases

Lighting fixtures can make or break your home decorating scheme. But more than they contribute to your health, if well chosen, by preserving and aiding your vision.

Take crystal, an example. It should be used mainly for decorative purposes. There is really very little light given off by elaborate crystal chandeliers. But if you're hunting anything for beauty alone, crystal is excellent.

Let's take a quick tour over the home to find out exactly what fits best in each room.

The reception hall light should be conspicuous. This light is important for several reasons. It is the last light to be turned off when you leave the house and it is the first to be snapped on when you return.

A globe type fixture for the living room is best when it fits closely to the ceiling. This type enlarges the room and gives a great deal of light at the same time. The old fashion drop chandelier has been eliminated almost entirely.

Since it is very seldom that auxiliary lighting is used in the dining room, choice of a fixture with a slight drop is best. The living room and dining room globes should harmonize in color and decorative design.

For the den and recreation rooms the lights must blend in with the room entirely, in color and style. If you have wood paneled walls it's best to have fixtures with matching wooden trim.

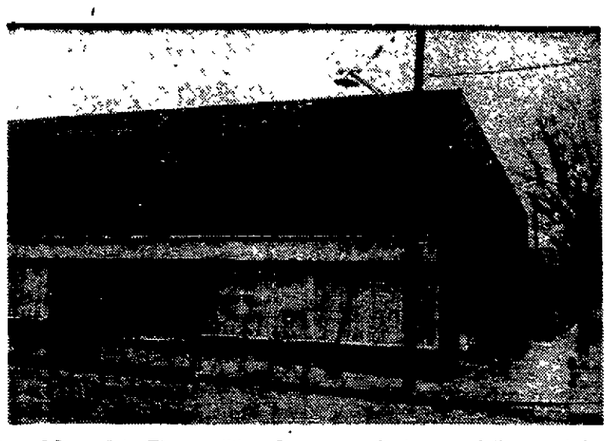
One of the most important rooms in the home, the children's room, is usually lighted with a colored shade adorned with, for the girl's room, perhaps, bow peep pictures. For the masculine tough in the boy's room, choose a ship's wheel, an anchor or if he's airminded, something to do with planes.

Again the close ceiling fixtures are chosen for the master bedroom. It is best to have this globe match the color scheme of the room.

No matter what architectural design your home is, the bath and kitchen fixtures are always modern. Circular fluorescent bulbs light most kitchens and baths.

Fluorescent bulbs are best for these rooms because they are the closest product to natural light. The incandescent bulbs give off a yellowish cast while the fluorescent is a true white.

The general trend of today is a one piece shaded and decorated bowl without any bulbs showing in the fixtures.



NEW STRUCTURES — Examples of recent commercial building in Mansfield in 1948 are the Thermo-Disc, Inc., factory, at 125 Crouse street, and Frankel office building, at 157 North Mulberry. The factory building was built by G. W. Taylor and Son and leased to Thermo-Disc, Inc., manufacturers of thermostats. The Frankel building serves as headquarters for Disabled American Veterans and various offices. Both were put into service early this year.

Building to Boom

Airport, Church Boost Outlay

A million - dollar project at Municipal airport and a church building program that will cost an estimated $400,000, will give Mansfield a boom year in building.

Included in the military installation at municipal airport will be six buildings which will occupy 21 acres of airport property.

First Congregational church recently let contracts for two units to be built this spring at an estimated cost of $400,000.

A number of new commerical buildings, both large and small have dotted Mansfield's landscape during the past three years to provide, employment, recreation, religion, and service for the city's growing population.

The big boom in commercial building in Mansfield came in 1946 when, despite material shortages such structures as the Sears Roebuck store at Diamond and North Park streets, and the Kroger market on Park avenue west were built.

By 1948 the commercial building boom had leveled off.

A. R. Brigham, 84 Raleigh avenue, is building a $25,000 meat market and grocery at West Fourth and Sycamore streets.

Mrs. Rose Booksbaum, 585 South Diamond street, obtained a permit for the construction of a clothing store at 144 North Main street. Cost of the remodeling job was estimated at $25,000.

The new Friendly House on North Mulberry street is nearing completion. Cost of this building is estimated at $230,000.

With the exception of the Friendly House, 1948 building in Mansfield was confined to smaller structures. There were a number of small factories, additions to factories, warehouses, grocery stores, a greenhouse and filling stations.

Mansfield merchants spent thousands of dollars during the year brightening up and remodeling their places of business but few built new structures.

One of the larger business buildings erected in the city during 1948 was the Frankel building at Fifth and Mulberry streets.

Among the other major projects for which building permits were issued in 1948 were C. W. Reindl company factory, 250 Park avenue east, estimated cost, $47,500; Stuhldreher Floral company, 275 Cline avenue, estimated cost, $25,000; Standard Oil service station, 502 West Fourth street, estimated cost, $4,500; Mansfield Structural and Erecting company warehouse, 429 Park avenue east, estimated cost, $4,000; Richland Farm Bureau, 236 East Third street, estimated cost, $12,000 and Burkhardt Brewing company warehouse, Eclipse and Wayne streets, estimated cost, $6,000.

If you live in an area where rainfall is plentiful, plant your lawn with blue grass. In dry locations, use the fairway strain of crested wheatgrass.

Get Equal Rent Rights

Tenants and landlords are granted equal rights in cases concerning rent adjustments, evictions, and other rent control matter in a new rent procedural regulation announced yesterday by George H. Blecker, area rent control director.

Under an old regulation only landlords had the right to petition for adjustment or appeal from an area rent office decision. The new Housing and Rent of Act of 1949 requires that the same right be given to tenants.

The regulation provides that in every action sought, either by landlord or tenant, the other party is notified by the area rent office and given a chanae to known his position in the matter before a decision is made. Appeal to the regional and national offices is provided.

Roving 'Experts' Likely to Cause Untold Damage

Landscaped Grounds Enhance Homes

Home-owners of today are beginning to realize more and more that proper landscaping of the grounds can add both to the appearance and material value of a home.

The expenditure of a few dollars in shrubbery, hedges, or removal of stunted and crooked trees can readily mean more money if the home were ever to be offered for sale. Yet, if the owner has no desire to sell, he has improved the appearance of his home to where it can provide greater satisfaction for him.

Chief of all points to remember in landscaping is that there are any number of roving bands of supposed 'experts' who are on the lookout for an easy dollar. With a glib line of talk they will chop up a beautiful shade tree, charge 10 prices, and then answer all protests with "wait until it is entirely leafed out."

So, for point number one in the care of trees and shrubbery, either perform the work yourself or hire a local firm where you can check on previous work and obtain a guarantee on any work performed on your own place.

In metropolitan areas it is often difficult to have shade trees such as the maple or oak which thrive in Ohio soil so — at home-owners are turning to shrubbery to fill their needs. The best of these are the various members of the arborvitae family. For smaller, or cottage type homes, the golden dwarf arborvitae forms a low and attractive shrub when placed on either side of the walk. These fill in nicely for corner spots or at regular intervals along the walk. They are used more in formal landscaping than in natural form.

STAND PRUNING

If the house is tall an ideal arrangement is to place one of the larger arborvitaes near the porch posts and fill in between them with Bridal Wreath (spirea) either in the baby's breath or full blossomed forms. These can stand extensive pruning at most times of the year and can be kept to a desired size. They thrive in the loam of this state and offer an early spray of white flowers.

Although the old style of high hedges gradually is being eliminated in landscaping most homes, one of the many forms of privet hedge provides a low line around a lawn for both attractiveness and appearance. However, privet must be trained and kept under control or it soon will be too tall and will hide the lawn it is supposed to beautify.

Holly, although hard to keep thriving in this climate, can be grown and is one of the most beautiful evergreens. Just a word of warning here, however. The leaves have needle - sharp projections and can be painful to the unwary.

Flower beds add to the beauty of a formally-landscaped home and care can be taken to arrange the beds so that at least one type of flower is blooming at all times through the summer. Petunias, moss Rose, pansies, zinnias, and bachelor's butons offer a colorful array of flowers.

SPRUCE ATTRACTIVE

Interspersed among the flower beds can be one of the hardest evergreens to keep alive — yet one of the most beautiful — the blue spruce. This long - leaved evergreen has inner needles of dark green hue which fades to a light blue near the ends of the branches. These are extremely delicate and must have much more care than the average shrub or tree.

If the owner is lucky enough to have large maple, oak, or elm trees in his yard he should take care to preserve these. Swings or wires tied to limbs can soon throttle a limb or bruise the bark to where disease and insects can enter. As a prime example of this, many tree experts will not permit a ladder to be used in climbing a tree since it bruises the bark.

Special caution should be used to make certain that steel spiked or 'climbers' are not used on shade trees. This is considered one of the worst practices of itinerant tree surgeons.

Once a reputable workman has been secured, it is easy to check on his work. All cuts where limbs have been removed from the tree should be flushed off level with the surrounding bark and if they are larger than a quarter should be painted in order to keep water, disease and insects from using the wound as a place of entrance.

All dead branches should be removed, and if the decay is found to extend into the trunk of the tree the cavity should be cleaned of all dead wood plus one-half inch of green wood then painted with an antiseptic. This cavity should then be filled, but here again care must be used. Most states require that a licensed expert do this work since an improperly filled cavity is worse than the original state of the tree.

For best results in landscaping or in caring for present greenery, it is wise to consult a person who makes it his life's work whether he be farmer, tree surgeon, or arborist.

Partial Successes Mark U. S. Policy

Mr. Acheson, as he takes stock and looks ahead to what is coming, might well feel, it seems to me, like a trustee who finds that the main investments are showing a nice profit but that there are a lot of sick cats and dogs in the portfolio.

He can have every reason to be confident that the great decision to redress the balance of power is successful: that a shooting war brought on by outright military aggression has been made improbable, if not impossible, by the measures which began with the dispatch of the fleet to the Mediterranean, were reinforced by American rearmament, and are now culminating in the Atlantic pact.

He can feel no less confident that the funds invested in European recovery are achieving their main purpose: that Great Britain and France are recovering and will, therefore, be able to play their necessary part in the political and economic reconstruction of the Western world.

But when Mr. Acheson turns from these large and promising achievements, and looks at Germany, Japan, China, Greece, Iran and Korea, the picture is not so pretty.

All the public relations officers and all the visitors, who have had the V.I.P. treatment, are unable to cover the fact that in these places things have gone or are going badly. They are the headaches of U. S. foreign policy.

It is significant, I think, that we have done well—perhaps in the perspective of history brilliantly well — where we have used American military and economic power for broad general purposes — to redress the balance of ower, to prohibit aggression, to help others to help themselves.

But we have not done well where we have undertaken to intervene directly and intimately in the internal affairs of distant and alien countries, and have entangled ourselves in the business of governing or managing them.

Military government in Germany, Japan and Koroa may have been unavoidable for a while. But no one can pretend that it has been successful, or doubt — if he knows the facts — that the problem is not whether, but how, to liquidate military government.

In Turkey, where we confined ourselves to a guaranty against aggression and some military assistance, we have done well; in Greece we are entangled in the civil war and the infinite complication of Greek politics and finance with no prospect of doing more than to hang on and to go on paying.

In China our intervention, whether it was too much or too little, has been a complete failure.

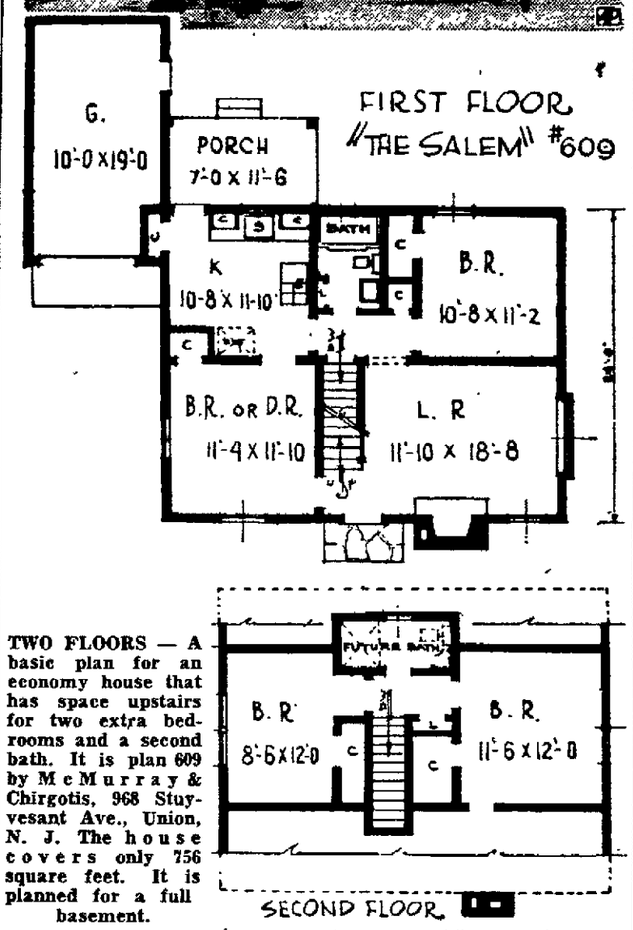
Looking at the successes of our foreign policy, which are very great, and then at the failures, which are unpleasant and dangerous and costly but not fatal, can we not say that the difference between them is just about what we might have expected?

This country is a great power separated from Europe and Asia by the oceans, and never until the past few years involved closely and directly in the affairs of Europe and Asia. When we participate, remembering the distance and aware of our unfamiliarity with the complex details—when we approach the old world as guarantors against aggression, as sponsors of recovery and reconstruction—we do well.

We are doing what we are able to do, what we know how to do, what geography and history and a true estimate of our interests, fit and permit us to do.

But when we go into Germany, Japan, Greece and set out to govern, to administer, to play politics, we are in a realm which is alien to our experience, to our habits and our ideals, and to our instincts.

As the truth becomes more generally known, is recognized, and is not obscured by propaganda, the relations of this country to the old world will improve.



TWO FLOORS — A basic plan for an economy house that has space upstairs for two extra bedrooms and a second bath. It is plan 609 by McMurray & Chirgotis, 968 Stuyvesant Ave., Union, N. J. The house covers only 756 square feet. It is planned for a full basement.

Ticking Goes As Mattresses Get New Look

The "new look" which first began to reach into the bedroom with pastel colored sheets and pillow cases now has extended even to matresses.

A famous fashion designer has created a set of mattress covers which manufacturers expect to replace old-fashioned bed ticking.

One of the new matress covers has a bouquet of field flowers in the middle with a garland of the same flowers as a border motif. Another comes in candy striped ticking with a design of blue bowknots tied at the corner.

Other covers designed to catch the eye of fashion-conscious housewives include a rose-scattered damask in gray and shocking pick and a French provincial pattern in bright colors.

Manufacturers said the new matress material also will be available for draperies and slip covers.

4-H Demonstrates Pattern Fitting

Pattern fitting demonstrations were given at the recent meeting of the Jolly Home Makers 4-H club at the home of Joyce and Bonnie Mottayaw.

The pattern fitting program was presented by Ingrid Glaesser, Gerda Rauch, and Joyce Mottayaw to the 13 members and guests attending the meeting.

The art of baking pies will be presented at the club's next meeting, April 30, at the home of Joyce Estep.

A dash of sugar added to the water in which vegetables are cooked adds to their flavor.

Medium-sized sweet potatoes will usually bake in a moderately hot oven in about half an hour. When they are ready they may be served as is or removed from the shell and mashed with butter or margarine, salt and freshly ground pepper; a little celery salt may also be added when mashing, if desired.

New Colors In Paints Help To Brighten Dingy Walls

By NITA BRANSON

A little paint of the right kind can go a long way toward brightening up a home.

Walls and woodwork can be transformed into something fresh and pretty with a minimum of paint and not too much effort.

Paint makers are going "all out" with color schemes. Gone are the mild and negative tones of yellow, pale green and ivory. Now there are bright cerises, deep mulberries, gay chartreuse and wedgewood blue.

Most of these new deeper shades have lighter shades with which to blend drapes and chair covers. The whole ensemble with contrasting furniture makes an attractive home.

One of the popular home magazines suggests that color schemes be taken from your carpet. If you have a one-tone rug, then you can use bright colors for your paints and wallpapers.

One of the prettiest schemes is that of beige carpet with walls done in two different but blending tones of darker beige and rose beige.

One paint theme combines a wall of purple and another of light beige, contrasting with a textured carpet also in beige.

With that is used a tomato red couch and gay chairs.

Most paints being sold now are the washable kind, although there are some housewives who still cling to the dull finish water emulsiontints.

Some manufacturers issue charts, showing contrasting or blending tones for woodwork in many spring-like shades. An attractive basic shade of mulberry, for instance, may be harmonized with other and varying shades of mulberry or contrasted with shades of green. Blues are combined with roses, teakwood with the new blues, so popular this year for household decorating.

Barnes Holds Safety Talks

Thirty supervisors of the Barnes Manufacturing company attended a safety meeting at the plant directed by W. C. Leonard, local representative of the division of Safety and Hygene of Industrial Commission of Ohio.

The men were shown a 25-minute sound movie, "The Man Who Came Back." The film, basically on safety in industry, may be obtained from the commission upon request for any organization.

Leonard also reported to the supervisors on a survey he made recently of potential safety hazards in the plant.

The meeting was part of Barnes' long-range safety program. The company has been able to reduce time losing accidents from 16 in 1947 to none so far this year.

Truman Signs ECA Extension

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman Tuesday signed into law a 15-month, $5,430,000,000 renewal of the Marshall plan.

Mr. Truman put his signature to the bill at a White House ceremony witnessed by foreign aid administrator Paul G. Hoffman and W. Averell Harriman, special aid ambassador to the Marshall plan countries.

The measure, approved by overwhelming majorities in both houses of Congress, is a second installment on the four-year European Recovery program. It aims to carry the program through what Hoffman has termed the "critical" period between now and mid 1950.

Realtors Predict Upswing In Home Buying In Mansfield

Demand Still High, Dealers Say

Tighter Financing Slows Market

Although the post-war building boom in Mansfield apparently is leveling off, realtors are optimistic about the future.

The demand for homes is as brisk as ever, realtors said, but a tightening of financing through banks and loan companies has slowed the market in recent weeks, a survey of realtors showed.

"Banks have tightened tremendously on the amount they will loan for the purchase of a home," one realtor said.

Another dealer said the real estate business, like others, has noticed a "slowing down", but he predicted an upward trend is certain to come before long as employment becomes more stabilized.

"The rental housing situation is more acute than ever", he said, "and with the return of a more confident outlook, business will pick up."

GAINED IN 1948

Realtors pointed to a similar slowdown during the first few months of 1948 and the upswing that followed.

The tremendous amount of red tape involved in GI and FHA loans and the cautiousness of banks in granting loans for home purchases were blamed by some realtors for the drop in home buying.

As an example, they said, if a straight loan on a $10,000 house is requested, a bank may loan $5,000. But if the price of the same house should be lowered to $8,200, the bank would loan about half the amount, or only $4,100.

Reductions in the price of real estate isn't helping the prospective buyer to finance it as much as the lower price should, dealers contend.

TALKS IN CITY—James A. Rhodes, mayor of Columbus, will address a joint meeting of the Mansfield Kiwanis and Rotary clubs tomorrow noon at the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Mayor Rhodes, described by many as "America's most sports-minded mayor," will speak on one of his favorite subjects "Sports and Youngsters."

Fire Razes Elevator

TOLEDO — (INS) — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Ottawa county cooperative grain elevator in the heart of the Oak Harbor business district.

The blaze was reported while Oak Harbor firemen and equipment were at the scene of a fire which destroyed four straw stacks on the grounds of the Ernest Everett and Sons hay dealers farm.

Grain machinery and two trucks were lost as well as an auxiliary building on the elevator property.

Oak Harbor Fire Chief Pinson summoned help from fire departments in neighboring Fremont, Port Clinton, Genoa and Elmore to aid in keeping flames from spreading to other buildings in the business district.

Boy Soap Seller Nearer Camp Trip

Dennis F. Wilkes, 10, of 39½ East Fourth street, is part of the way to YMCA Camp Nelson Dodd after selling 144 bars of soap yesterday.

Dennis also won a Scout knife for selling the case and Maurice W. Taylor, YMCA general secretary, said he is on his way toward selling another case.

All the money the 95 enrolled youngsters earn from their soap sales goes to them for their camp vacation.

A boy has to sell approximately four cases to pay for a week at camp. In addition to the camp fee he can win the scout knife for selling one case and a good quality baseball glove for three cases.

Find Girl After All Night Search

BIG RAPIDS—(INS)—Two-year-old Jacqueline Simon was found alive early today in a field three-quarters of a mile from her home near Big Rapids, Mich.

She was reported probably suffering from exposure, and a doctor was rushed to the scene.

The child, reported missing from her home late yesterday afternoon, was the object of an all-night search by more than one hundred neighbors and police officers.

For the Whole House

Use of Plastic, Paper Drapes Grows

The newest additions to the many fabrics used for draperies and curtains are plastic and paper. Whereas the paper drapes and curtains are really confined to a kitchen, recreation, or child's room, the plastic draperies and curtains are remarkably similar to more conventional fabrics and are by no means confined to the bathroom where they have been for some years past.

New plastic designs come in every pattern and color and could very well be used in almost any room. Their advantages are their waterproofing, fade resistance, nonshrinkage and washableness. They resemble linen and chintz very closely.

The new permanent organdy finish enables your bedroom curtains to retain their organdy sheen throughout their lifetime. This used to be the main trouble with organdy, the fact that it lost its lustre with only a few washings. But now the situation is remedied and when you buy this permanently finished organdy you need no longer worry about how your curtains will look after being washed.

Dotted swiss is still the traditional kitchen curtain and has not changed in style for many years. The new paper curtains, which are sold for a very nominal price, will really provide a change for your kitchen.

They come in all colors, patterns and sizes and of course can be simply thrown away when they get soiled or your kitchen needs a change. However, you'd be surprised at how long they stay unsoiled. The only drawback to them is that they tear rather easily.

Draperies in conventional fabrics are shown in very large bright patterns this year with more dark backgrounds than usual. Very little solid color is being shown but there are enough varieties of prints to enable a buyer to find something to blend with any room.

DRAPES AID DECORATORS — The attractive drapes in the picture above pick up the predominating colors in the furniture materials to give an effect of restful harmony. The use of these wide drapes across one wall serves to complete the arrangement of chairs, davenport, and table in a cozy conversation corner. Drapes like these are available in a Mansfield store.

Slask Milk Price

AKRON — (AP) — The Lawson Milk company yesterday announced cash-and-carry milk price cut in its 70 stores and outlets. The new price of 12 cents a quart and 45 cents a gallon represents cuts of one cent quart and 4 cents a gallon.

Ladies' Night Fete Planned

"Ladies' night" will be held by members of the Men's club of the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday, April 27 at 6:30 p. m.

Dinner will be served by the young women of the church in the church parlors. Members and their wives and friends will hear Harvey Crass, of New Philadelphia, who is connected with the Muskingum Conservancy project.

Although the event is being planned by the Men's club of the church, it is open to all members of the church, according to Edward Quinn, president of the club. Plans are being made, he said for 150 guests.

2 Sentenced After Beating Schoolboy

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Two 18-year-old boys who pleaded guilty to beating a John Marshall high school boy after the city basketball championship game last month have drawn $25 fines and four-month workhouse sentences.

Municipal Judge Frank D. Celebrezze yesterday meted out the punishment to Melvin Parker and Lawrence Speights.

10,000 View Beery Rites

HOLLYWOOD — (UP) — Wallace Beery, the "beloved old rascal" of Hollywood, received final tribute yesterday from the movie stars he worked with and fans he entertained in 40 years of show business.

Crowds of mourners, starting two hours before his funeral, trudged up a hill in Forest Lawn Memorial park under cloudy skies to pay their respects at his funeral service.

Beery's body, clad in the navy uniform he was so proud of, lay in the Little Stone church of the Recessional surrounded by hundreds of floral pieces. They came from top stars in the movie world and the simple fans who loved him.

Police guards stood by to direct the crowd of 10,000—largest for a Hollywood funeral in years—past the coffin and outside the church. Berry died Friday night from a heart ailment.

Harlan Now Without Any Policeman

Judge Dismisses Last Officer

HARLAN, Ky. — (INS) — Harlan county was left without a police department yesterday with announcement by Judge W J. R. Howard that he had dismissed the last member of the special force he created in 1946.

The judge gave no reason for the dismissal of Melvin Moore, the only remaining member of the force after the death of Chief Ambrose Metcalfe who was shot to death Sunday in the nearby community of Shields.

Ambrose headed the special police force which Judge Howard formed in 1946 at the insistence of a citizens league which demanded more vigorous law enforcement in the legally dry county.

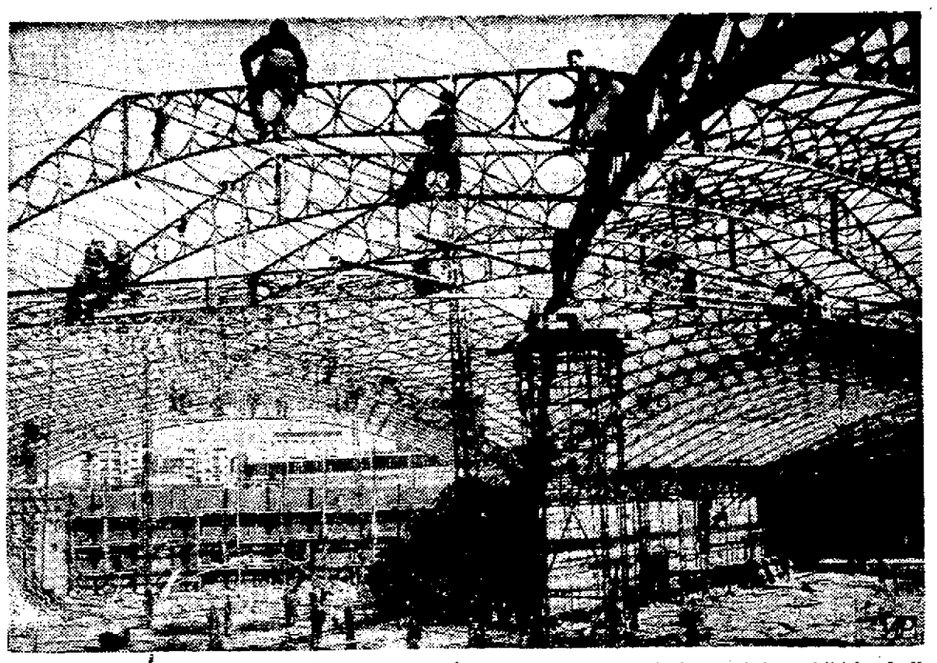
He was the last of three men to hold the touchy post. E. J. Baumgartner, the first appointee, resigned to become police chief of Evarts in the same county and was killed while arresting a bootlegger.

The second chief, Clarence Cox, was killed in a slate fall in a small truck mine which he operated to suppliment his police officer's salary.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed today the 29-year-old Metcalfe told a friend the night before he was killed that he planned to resign to take a job as a special state policeman assigned to the Cornett-Lewis Coal company at Louellen.

He was to replace Charles Elliott, the previous officer who was killed last fall during a raid on a roadside liquor still.

Judge Howard said he would appoint a successor to Metcalfe when he can find a suitable Harlan county candidate. He added he believed it would be hard to find a man of Ambrose's caliber but that he would choose the new chief on his own without applications.



PREPARING FOR MILAN FAIR—Workmen set beams for the roof of one of the exhibition halls at the Milan fair, fourth since the end of the war. More than 1,000,000 square feet of space will be devoted to displays which last year attracted 3,400,000 visitors.

Mansfield Milk Price Still Higher Than Some Area Cities

The cost of milk to Mansfield homes is just about the same as that paid in 17 other Ohio cities.

But, this average cost of 18 cents per quart is derived only when the higher dairy prices in southern and south western parts of the state are computed into the state average.

Akron is paying only 16 cents a quart for Grade A milk, the same grade sold in Mansfield.

Shelby, Cleveland, Columbus, Salem, Tiffin, and Warren housewives are paying 17 cents per quart for Grade A milk, one cent less than Mansfield.

Cities where the price per quart of milk are the same as in Mansfield include Bellefontaine, Ft. Wayne, Ind., Lorain, Marion, and Newark.

With the exception of Lima, all of the higher-priced milk (19 cents per quart) is found in an area south and east of Dayton, including Dayton, Zanesville, and Cincinnati. Milk hits its highest the state in Hamilton, where it price in that southern portion of costs 21 cents a quart.

Complete Papers For Extradition

GREENSBURG, PA. — (UP) — The FBI and Westmoreland county authorities were completing arrangements yesterday for extradition of Roy Mann, 28, of Sabraton, W. Va., to Baltimore, Md., where he will face court action for two bank holdups.

Questioning by District Attorney John Connell yesterday failed to link Mann with any more Westmoreland county crimes. He already has admitted to holdups in Latrobe, Derry and Tarr in addition to the Baltimore banks.

Fliers Near 1,000 Hour Mark In Air

FULLERTON, CAL. — (UP) — Endurance fliers Bill Barris and Dick Riedel were less than 200 hours away from their goal of 1,000 hours in the air as they cruised over southern California today.

The pair completed 825 hours in the air at dusk yesterday and sent down word from their Sunkist Lady that they felt confident of setting the 1,000-hour mark next week.

Plan Nursery to Keep Pace With Growth of Children

The room set aside for a nursery should grow with the child. Basic furniture includes a drop-side crib with safety catch underneath so the child cannot open it; oblong play-pen narrow enough to be pushed through doorways; screen to shield the crib from drafts; and a combination play-table-and chair.

Nursery furniture colors are usually white, ivory or blue, often decorated with bright transfers or painted designs. When paint is used, it should be only a non-poisonous type.

The floor must be easy to clean, resist wear, and provide color interest. Pictures of birds or animals are frequently included in the floor for added interest. These are especially attractive to the child who is growing out of the toddler stage.

If the room is to grow with the child, the crib is replaced with a youth-bed after about three years, the play-pen discarded and the table-chair combination replaced with child-sized table, desk and chairs, in natural maple or birch finish.

Lamb Pool Business Up

The Greenwich lamb pools during the 1948-49 season handled 5,300 sheep and lambs consigned by farmers, an increase of 1,100 over the previous season.

County Agent C. N. McGrew said the percentage of "blue" lambs increased from 37.7 for the previous season to 51 per cent for this past season.

Fifty purebred lambs were placed in the arena during the year. McGrew said that prizes, sponsored by the Huron County Bankers association and the Shiloh bank, went to three sheep raisers for the high quality of lambs and sheep they took to the sales.

Award of rams will be given to B. O. Thomas and Robert Vogel, of Huron county, and Calhoun Brothers, of Ashland county. Thirty-eight farmers were given free subscriptions to "Sheepman's Magazine" for the high quality lambs taken to the pools.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Two safe deposit boxes of Serge Rubinstein convicted draft dodger, have yielded $350,000 in U. S. treasury certificates, 10,000 shares of stock in aircraft companies and several promissory notes.

Federal officials and attorneys for the convicted financier opened the boxes yesterday for an inventory of the contents in connection with government tax liens of $1,300,000 against Rubenstein and his corporations.
